SEVEN KILLED IN GANG RAID WOLTERS TESTIFIES IN LAND PROBE

PROMINENT TEXAS POLITICIAN FLAYS STATE'S SALARIES

PAYS TRIBUTE TO HONESTY AND FAITHFULNESS OF COM- MISSIONER ROBISON

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—One of the "curses" of Texas is the miserly salaries paid state officers, and inadequacy of remuneration, is a "constant temptation to break down the integrity of honest men," General Jacob F. Wolters said today in testifying before the committee investigating the land office.

He said he regarded J. T. Robison, land commissioner, as "a model of a perfect public servant."

Asked by E. F. Smith, attorney for Robison, if he saw anything wrong in Robison's acceptance of a gift of $2,250 from friends in West Texas to pay off a mortgage on his farm, the money having been raised without Robison's knowledge and turned over to the chief clerk of the land office to pay off the debt "as a surprise" to Robison, General Wolters replied that he did not.

Explaining the transaction whereby land owners were assessed one cent an acre to pay ex-

Garrett and Lenroot On Customs Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Felix J. Garrett, of Tennessee, present minority leader of the house of representatives, and former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, were nominated by president Coolidge today to be associate judges of the United States court of appeals.

Mr. Garrett will retire from the house on March 4.

MAN DIES FROM HURTS EASTLAND, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Samuel Wright, 25, Abilene, died here last night of injuries received when he was crushed between two automobiles on the highway near Odessa earlier in the night.

INCREASED CONSUMPTION OF COTTON REPORTED AND MORE SPINDLES ACTIVE THIS YEAR

OKLAHOMA GARAGE MAN KILLED HIS FATHER-BROTHER

TALOGA, Okla., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Surrendering voluntarily after a double killing late last night, Lloyd Hollingsworth, 27, Canton motor car dealer and garage man, was held in jail here today to face charges for the slaying of his father, William Hollingsworth, and brother, William Hollingsworth, Jr.

Hollingsworth told the officers he went to his father's farm, 13 miles west of Canton, about midnight, and after an argument picked up a shotgun and killed the two.

There had been disagreements in the family for several weeks.

British Gunboat Goes On Rocks

HONGKONG, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The British river gunboat Molt struck the Webster rocks near Wuchow yesterday, and had a hole punched in her hull. She shipped considerable water.

The warships Tarantula and Moorhen are standing by her awaiting a salvage crew.

Stray Mule Is Innocent Cause Death Two Men

RUSHVILLE, (Ill.), Feb. 14.—(AP)—A feud started by a mule was blamed today for the deaths of Newton Sowers and Gilda Strausbaugh, farmers.

Several years ago Sowers' mule strayed into Strausbaughs' pasture. Sowers said his neighbor beat the animal, and threatened reprisal. The grudge they bore each other was well known to neighbors but was never considered serious.

Yesterday Strausbaugh went into Sower's barn, shot him dead and then turned the gun on himself.

WIDOW OF SLAIN DETECTIVE KILLS SELF WEDNESDAY

FORMER BOARDER IS ALSO UNDER INDICTMENT FOR SLAYING HUSBAND

WILLIMATIC, Conn., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Further interest in the slaying of County Detective William E. Jackson was aroused today by the suicide of Mrs. Gertrude Jackson, his widow.

Before she shot herself she wrote a note, in which she stated that she would aid in solution of the mystery of her husband's death.

Trenton A. Rice, special deputy sheriff and former boarder at the Jackson home, was indicted last week for killing Jackson.

Jackson was shot two weeks ago when seated in the kitchen of his home. Mrs. Jackson took a rifle from the kitchen and used it in an upstairs room yesterday. The note, unsigned and sealed, was discovered after Mrs. Jackson's death. Rice, a friend of the family, was arrested after he had acted as a pal for Jackson's funeral.

Some of Rice's relatives freely asserted he was shielding a woman.

HIDALGO COUNTY DELEGATION GOES HOME WEDNESDAY

EFFORT TO REMOVE REPRESENTATIVE MONTGOMERY FAILS BEFORE HOUSE

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—Everything was serene today around the capitol and Representative W. R. Montgomery of Hidalgo retained his seat in the house after yesterday's invasion by citizens of Montgomery's home county protesting action of the house in dismissing the contest of E. M. Smith of McAllen, who claimed he had been legally elected to the legislature from that district.

The delegation which came to urge reconsideration of the contest filed quietly out of the capitol after the house sustained a point of order raised by Jack Keller of Dallas that the subject dealt with matters heretofore considered by the legislature and a motion to reconsider and table had carried at that time, precluding its being reopened.

Gordon Griffin of Edinburg, attorney for Smith, said today a majority of the delegation, variously estimated to number from 200 to 500, returned home last night.

"I do not know what our next step will be," he said. "We may"

SMALLER AMOUNT RECOMMENDED FOR STARTING CRUISERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A recommendation for a $12,370,000 appropriation to begin the cruiser construction program was forwarded to congress today by President Coolidge.

The budget's recommendation forwarded by the president, however, was little more than half of the amount proposed by the navy department. Secretary Wilbur was questioned behind closed doors and afterwards assumed to discuss his conversation with the committee regarding the cruiser allowance recommended by the president.

The $12,370,000 would be available during the next fiscal year, beginning next July 1, and it has been assumed the president would propose another appropriation to permit starting work during the current year.

PLANES ORDERED FOR AIR EXPRESS LINES SOUTHWEST

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Erie P. Halliburton, president of the newly formed Southwestern Air Fast Express, placed with the Ford Motor company yesterday an order for 10 Ford motor cars to establish an extensive air passenger service in the Southwest.

The express lines will link St. Louis and Kansas with Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Dallas and Fort Worth by an air line operated exclusively for passenger service. If the line is a success, Halliburton said, he is prepared to make the system a link in a transcontinental route connecting at St. Louis with air lines from the east and reaching through El Paso, Texas, to the Pacific coast.

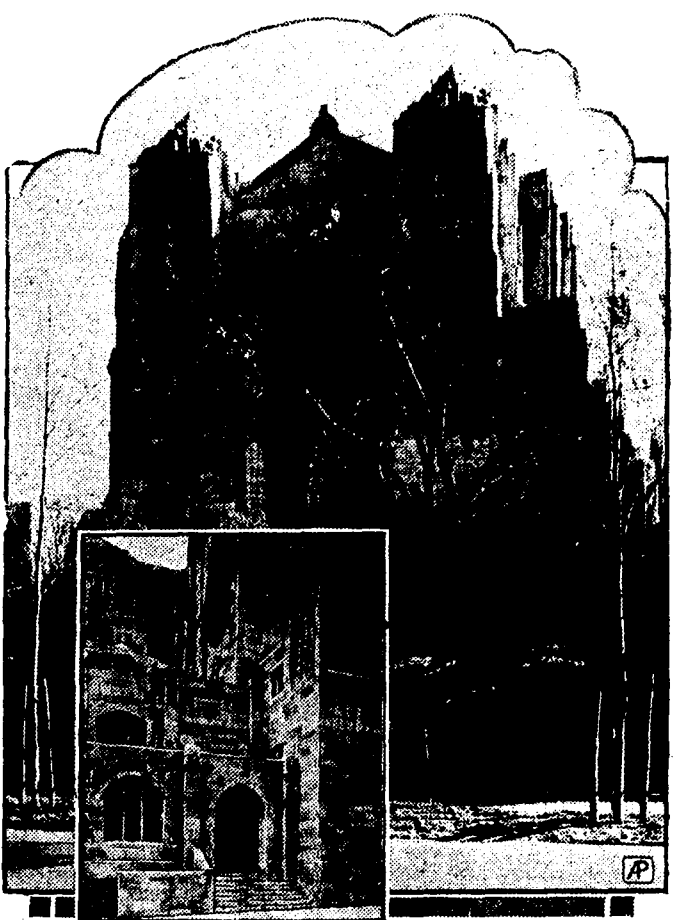

The planes to be used will carry fourteen passengers. Headquarters of the line will be in Texas.

BILL TO REGULATE CITRUS FRUIT SALE NOW BEFORE HOUSE

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Law forbidding the sale of citrus fruit between Sept. 1 and Dec. 15 of each year, unless the fruit has been inspected and passed by a citrus fruit inspector of the state or of the United States bureau of agricultural economics is pending in the house. It was written by Representatives W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg and Polk C. Hornaday of Hurlington, and is aimed at the marketing of unripe, overripe and frost damaged fruit, they said.

It provides further that it shall be unlawful during the remaining period of from Dec. 16 to August 31, when inspection is not required, for any person to sell, offer for sale, transport, deliver or prepare for sale or transportation, any citrus fruit which is immature or otherwise unfit for consumption.

SKYSCRAPER CHURCH GETS LIGHT BY SETBACK STYLE

The new and tall Church of the Heavenly Rest and the Beloved Disciple in New York City (above) has a setback style of architecture that permits sunlight upon the parish house (inset.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The "skyscraper" type of architecture, with its skyline broken to conserve light, has been applied with unusual emphasis to the recently completed parish house of the Church of the Heavenly Rest and the Beloved Disciple here, the first use in a $3,500,000 group.

One of the severest tasks confronting architects in New York is the rationing of daylight in thickly built up sections. In the construction of this church group particular attention was paid to the conservation of light left between towering walls.

The church itself is rapidly approaching completion. It stands on an uptown Fifth avenue corner, looking to the west over Central park.

The height of this edifice is so great that exceptional precautions had to be taken lest it overshadow the parish house, constructed directly to the rear. This was accomplished by setbacks, thoroughly in keeping with the gothic architecture, but also serving an effective purpose.

The result is that the parish house appears in a series of steps, breaking back from the church, its height ranging from one to six stories. This not only has provided the parish house ample light, but has left the great east window of the church free from shadow.

Another "island" of light appears to the south of the church, where a low cloister has been imposed between the towering walls of the church and a residence to the south. A carved stone doorway leads through this cloister to the tiny Chapel of the Beloved Disciple. Thus light is promised the south windows.

Setback ideas of construction have been prevalent in office buildings for years, but this is believed to be the first time it has ever been applied to a church.

FORMER GOVERNOR OKLAHOMA BRANDS TRIAL AS "HORSEPLAY"; FAVORS FEDERAL MANAGEMENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, and her uncle, James R. Armstrong, were included in the list of witnesses who will testify in Johnston's defense before the senate court of impeachment, filed today with the court.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Activities of special attorneys in the state banking department, whose employment was announced by three impeachment charges against Governor Henry S. Johnston, occupied the attention today of the senate court trying the suspended governor.

E. S. Lowther of Guthrie, who became an attorney about ten years ago after working for 25 years as a railroad conductor, told the court he had recommended the payment of $350 to Kirby Fitzpatrick, another attorney employed by the banking department, for assistance in a suit growing out of the failure of the Security State Bank at Guthrie, although Fitzpatrick was paid a retainer fee of $3,500 and a regular salary for his work.

M. S. Cope, a third banking attorney defended the necessary Lowther's employment, asserting thousands of dollars had been saved to the state through his work. O. B. Mothershead, former state bank commissioner, told the senate court yesterday that in his opinion, the employment of Lowther and Fitzpatrick was unnecessary.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14.—(AP)—After a day cumbered with technical testimony, Oklahoma's impeachment drama today promised to unfold rapidly as members of the senate impeachment court contemplated calling T. N. Crosswhite, Ardmore shoemaker, before them to explain just what happened to an elusive $1200 which Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, is being tried by the senate court.

This pardon, granted when the younger Crosswhite was listed as a fugitive, after he had been convicted of murder, is one of 11 articles of impeachment upon which Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, is being tried by the senate court.

BIG SPRINGS MAN DRAWS DEATH FOR SLAYING YOUTH

FAILS IMPRESS JURY WITH INSANITY PLEA; BREAKS AFTER VERDICT

BIG SPRINGS, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Having failed to impress a jury with his plea of insanity, A. A. Bergdorf, farmer, was under death sentence today for the fatal shooting of Charles Wallace, Dallas youth. Wallace was shot through the head with a rifle as he stood in a filling station near here last October.

The jury deliberated an hour and twenty minutes before returning a verdict late yesterday.

The stoical calm which Bergdorf affected during the trial deserted him when the verdict was read. He threw himself at a deputy sheriff near him and fought desperately until five officers overpowered him. He was handcuffed and taken, struggling, from the courtroom.

Bergdorf testified yesterday he remembered nothing of the shooting, his mind having gone blank shortly after he drank at quantity of liquor. State witnesses, in rebuttal, said they talked to Bergdorf ten minutes before Wallace was killed and he appeared normal.

NEW DISARMAMENT PROPOSAL EXPECTED FROM BRITAIN SOON

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—It was learned in well informed quarters today that proposals for a new disarmament conference may be made by the British government to the United States in the near future.

It is believed that responsible officials here are studying how the existing disarmament conference can be improved, and that after a lengthy process of consulting the dominions and obtaining their agreement, the proposals may be embodied in the answer of the British government to the recent Kellogg pact.

It was in this note that the United States government stated it was unable to accept the proposals put forward in the Anglo-French naval treaty, but at the same time said it would welcome any further suggestions, thus leaving the door open for future negotiation.

AUTHORITY STATE MILITIA TO RAID BE TAKEN COURTS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14.—(AP)—While proprietors and patrons were threatening to go to the courts with complaints against the state militia for its anti-gambling crusade, Governor Huey P. Long today announced plans for more drastic action against gambling resorts around New Orleans.

"Gambling has got to stop," the governor said in a statement the Associated Press. "We are going to do worse than raid. We haven't started yet. They can't continue to openly defy the law around here."

Governor Long declared he would announce what steps he planned in fighting gambling.

"Wait and see," was his only comment.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Authority of state militia to raid alleged gambling houses and search patrons for money was changed today by several victims and proprietors who said they would carry their cases into the courts as a result of a series of raids last night, under orders of Gov. Huey P. Long.

First opposition to the militia's authority was made by Fred P. Kriss, of Detroit, a race horse man, who defied the soldiers to search his home and his wife at the Franchina roadhouse. The troops hesitated and later took him and his wife to the Jackson barracks where they were held until shortly before 10 o'clock today, the soldiers claiming they searched him and Kriss claiming they did not.

The raids were of a series that Gov. Long has been conducting for several weeks with the state militia in an effort to break up gambling around New Orleans. He gave the orders last night and the troops, divided into three raiding parties, swooped down simultaneously on the St. Bernard County Club, Franchina's night club and the suburban gardens. While no active gambling was found, six truck loads of gambling paraphernalia were taken out of the places and burned.

SENTENCED TO CHAIR.
MT. PLEASANT, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Wade Wilborn was sentenced today by Judge R. T. Wilkinson to die in the electric chair April 12 for killing his wife, Mrs. Rosa Wilborn, in February, 1928.

U. S. Senator Near Death.
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 14.—(AP)—U. S. Senator O. A. Larrazolo is near death at his home here today, according to reports of physicians attending him. A priest was called to his home today to administer the last sacrament.

Abandon Hope Rescuing Crew French Trawler

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, France, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Hope has been abandoned for the rescue of 19 members of the crew of the trawler Etiole Du Sud which sank in a dense fog on Feb. 5 near Plymouth.

The French consul at Plymouth today reported the Etiole Du Sud was the vessel struck by the British freighter Manchester. Confirmed on that day. The report said only one life preserver was found and it was believed impossible that any of the crew could have reached shore safely.

TREASURY COULD USE EXTRA FUNDS PRO ENFORCEMENT

TWO AND HALF MILLION SET AS FIGURE THAT COULD BE SUCCESSFULLY USED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The treasury has advised the house appropriations committee that it could use an additional $2,500,000 this year in the enforcement of prohibition.

The estimate was sent to the committee in response to an inquiry that developed in consideration of the proposal of Senator Harris of Georgia to make an additional $24,000,000 available immediately. That proposal now is awaiting action by the senate since the refusal of the house conferees to accept it.

Secretary Mellon said today the request for the additional appropriation would be transmitted to the house through the budget bureau in the ordinary course of business.

When the Harris proposal first was before the senate, Secretary Mellon wrote to Chairman Warren of the senate appropriations committee, that it would be inadvisable to place a lump sum of such character in the hands of an officer without a plan for distributing it.

TWENTY-FIVE SEAMEN TAKEN FROM SHIP BEING POUNDED TO PIECES ON ALEUTIAN ISLANDS

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Twenty-five Japanese, snatched from the freighter Meiyu Maru while it was being ground to pieces on the rocks of the Aleutian Islands, were safe aboard the steamer Illinois today.

Messages last night told of the exciting rescue, but details were lacking.

The rescue was effected by shooting breechbuys from the Illinois and the Nankoh Maru to the doomed ship and pulling the crew of the Meiyu Maru to safety.

In a pounding sea and with the rescue ships working dangerously near the rocks, the buoy lines often sagged until their human cargoes were dipped into the surf.

The Meiyu Maru, a freighter of 5,000 tons, ran aground Tuesday during a storm. Several hours later the Nankoh Maru reached the scene, but was unable to effect a rescue. Yesterday she stood by until the Illinois arrived.

At Dutch Harbor, Alaska, the crew of the freighter Alloway was recuperating after having been picked up by the steamer Montauk about 100 miles from the wreck of the Meiyu Maru. Thirty-three men, all but one of the crew, abandoned the Alloway as it seemed about to crash into the rocks of Unimak Pass. One member of the crew, an older named Poloy, refused to leave the Alloway.

Latest advices here were the Alloway's anchors were holding her a few yards off the rocks and Poloy was still aboard.

BILL WILL PERMIT STATE UNIVERSITY ACCEPT BEQUEST

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A bill authorizing the board of regents of the University of Texas to accept a gift of approximately $200,000 from the E. D. Farmer estate in Parker county.

The gift would be administered as the E. D. Farmer International Scholarship Fund and would be used to provide student scholarships between the University of Texas and the National University of Mexico.

The approximately $200,000 represents the amount that would be paid the state in inheritance tax should the sum be settled on some institution outside the state. Farmer died May 29, 1924.

CHICAGO GANGSTER WAR CULMINATES IN WHOLESALE MURDERS

FIVE MEN LINE EIGHT MORAN GANGSTERS AGAINST WALL AND EXECUTE THEM

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Seven members of the powerful North Side gang headed by George "Bugs" Moran were trapped in their North Clark street headquarters today by five gunmen who lined them up with their faces to a brick wall, beneath a powerful electric light and shot them to death.

The wholesale killing, the most sensational in the long and bloody history of Chicago gangland warfare, was carried out with precision by five executioners wearing stars and posing as police officers who invaded a garage where the Moran gang was in conference, herded the helpless and unarmed victims to the rear and mercilessly executed them with sawed off shot guns and machine guns. Each body bore from six to ten bullet wounds.

A recapitulation of the dead revealed there were but seven victims. The revised list of dead follows:

FRANK GUSENBERG, gang leader.

FRANK GUSENBERG, his brother.

AL WEINSHANK, soft drink parlor owner.

JOHN MAY, a mechanic.

JAMES CLARK, brother-in-law of Moran.

Two other men, variously identified as Arthur Hayon and Dan and Frank Foster, Moran henchmen.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Eight members of the Chicago gang of George "Bugs" Moran, were lined up against a wall and summarily executed today by a band of men who invaded the Northside headquarters of the gang posing as police officers.

After forcing the men to raise their hands, the gangsters shot them down in cold blood.

SENATE UNVEILS PORTRAIT OF BUCK IN CHAMBER TODAY

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The senate paused today to pay tribute to the living, in unveiling and accepting the portrait of Colonel Beaumont B. Buck of San Antonio.

"My children and children's children will point to this day with pride," the distinguished Texas senator said. "I have lengthened my days and have filled my family with ineffable happiness. The least I can do is thank you."

Colonel Buck was accompanied by Mrs. Buck and their daughter, Miss Lucy Buck, his aide, Captain E. V. Hunnicutt, and Mrs. Hunnicutt, and a group of Austin reserve officers.

His portrait, given to the state by the Texas reserve officers' association, was hung in the senate chamber several months ago, but it has not been accepted by the senate.

Governor Moody, in accepting the gift for the senate and the state, said he had received no honor which he enjoyed more. He asserted the portrait of the world war leader of the third division was worthy to hang alongside that of Albert Sidney Johnson.

CARRAWAY BILL REJECTED. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—The senate today rejected the Carraway bill to prevent the sale of cotton and grain in future markets.

CONGRESSMAN COLLAPSES. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Representative Maas, Republican, Minnesota, collapsed today on the floor of the house and was rushed to a hospital in a serious condition.

DEATHS FROM AUTO-MOBILE ACCIDENTS.

The Department of Commerce announced that during the four weeks ending January 26, 1929, seventy-eight cities in the United States reported 612 deaths from automobile accidents. This number compares with 531 deaths during the four weeks ending January 23, 1928.

The automobile death toll increases with each report of comparative figures. In a year's time the number killed in car crashes and accidents reach a staggering total but there seems to be no way of calling a halt to the slaughter at the present.

For the fifty-two week period ending January 26, 1929, and January 28, 1928, the totals for the seventy-eight cities reporting, were respectively, 7597 and 7143, which indicates a recent rate of 23.2 per 100,000 population as against an earlier rate of 22.1 or an increase of five percent in the rate in a single year.

Some accidents are unavoidable but the majority of fatal crashes are unnecessary. Too many drivers of automobiles take too many chances. The minute saved is all too often an eternity. It is far better to be a little late than to cause a death. Observe traffic regulations and exercise every precaution.

Don't take a chance. It is too late after the accident has occurred.

Don't depend upon the traffic officer to make you observe the traffic regulations. It is your individual duty to obey the law.

If every automobile driver will do his individual duty in observing the traffic laws the fatalities will be cut to the minimum.

THE NEW CULTURE.

The most widespread myth of the day relates to the so-called materialism of America. It is almost as universal as the once firmly held belief in witchcraft. Many foreign critics and not a few native commentators, after comparing modern America unfavorably with modern Europe, indulge in the rather futile pleasure of measuring this young and vigorous civilization by the standards of those that died long ago of decadence.

More often than not they are blind to the fact that their examples from the past are drawn from eras in which the highly-privileged few were forced into flower at the expense of the oppressed and starving many. They speak with proper awe of Athens in the age of Pericles; but they ignore the fact that the culture of the period was centered in some 15,000 persons who lived on the labor of sweated slaves, artisans, shopkeepers and aliens.

In the same way they honor the Italy of the Medici and the England of Queen Elizabeth, with small concern for their squalor, poverty, disease, oppression and general hopelessness. The deep background of Europe is so foreshortened that it is hard to keep past performance out of the picture of the present.

There is a new culture in the making in the United States, and it is the first not founded on slavery, oppression and a leisure class. It is a culture made possible by prosperity, universal education, high standards of living, great material wealth and a class with the will and the money to make it possible for another class to devote its genius to artistic creation.

Now that the air is conquered what about a concerted effort to subdue hot air?

Being too cautious or too reckless or too anything is too bad.

THE BEST PLAN FOR RADIO.

Notwithstanding the American Bar Association opinion that a Federal Radio Commission should continue to administer the field of wireless, Commissioner Caldwell, of the Commission, begs leave to differ, and in a matter as technical as radio, it is permissible to suggest that the opinion of a radio expert should carry more weight than that of the legal profession.

The Federal Commission has done a great public work just as well as statutory limitations would permit. But, as Mr. Caldwell points out to the House Committee on the White bill to extend the life of the Commission as an administrative body for a year from March 15, Congress, by prescribing the zoning scheme and laying down specific directions for division of wave-lengths and power, prevented the Commission from exercising its best judgment and giving the country the benefit of the best technical information. Therefore he believes better results would be obtained by letting regulation revert to the Department of Commerce with a freer hand to assign and allocate and regulate, with the Radio Commission relieved of administrative power, and delegated to the job of acting as court of appeal as between the Department of Commerce and the radio industry.

Congress always has a tendency to give commissions impossible jobs, as the Interstate Commerce Commission discovered when it was instructed to organize and effect mergers of all the nation's railroads. The radio body has been operating under statutory inhibitions seriously handicapping its efforts. A good deal of the complaint against its latest allocations properly should be aimed at Congress and not at the Commission. Radio must continue to be regulated. And the Commission has well earned an extension of administrative life. But in any field of Federal jurisdiction departmental control with appellate provisions is preferable.

KNOW TEXAS.

General Sam Houston defeated Santa Anna in command of a Mexican army at the battle of San Jacinto April 21, 1836, and Texas thereupon became an independent republic.

Texas remained an independent republic from 1836 to 1846 under the successive administrations of Presidents David G. Burnett, Sam Houston, Mirabeau B. Lamar, Sam Houston (second term), and Anson Jones.

On February 16, 1846, Texas was annexed to the United States and President Anson Jones retired in favor of Governor J. Pinckney Henderson.

Texas then included the present eastern half of New Mexico, the portion of Oklahoma today lying north of the Texas Panhandle, southwestern Kansas, a large portion of central Colorado, and a section of Wyoming.

CHAMBER BANQUET.

The Corsicana Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual banquet February 19. Only 400 seats will be available for the event. Of course everybody will wish to attend. To insure your reservation get your tickets early. The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet has a permanent place in the major events of local activities and is looked forward to each year with much pleasant anticipation. A good menu and an enjoyable program is always assured. In addition to this it brings together the progressive citizenship of the community causing the exchange of ideas and the renewing of friendships.

The Chamber of Commerce has a very important place in the everyday life of the community and deserves the support of the entire citizenship of Corsicana and Navarro county.

SCIENCE KEEPS PRICES DOWN.

From a notable American chemist comes the amazing statement that science can produce a synthetic substitute for everything. Steel, rubber, beefsteak, milk, foods of all kinds, tin, gasoline, camphor—these and other things can be produced completely in the laboratory when and if the need arises.

For the time being nature can produce these things far more cheaply than man, but according to this and other scientists, if for any reason the cost of natural production should become excessive the world need not worry about substitutes.

For years the public has been warned that it was approaching a terrible age in which, with raw materials exhausted, humanity would face a struggle for existence far more barrowing than that of prehistoric man. Here, however, is hope. There is no need to worry, for science can produce even what always have been considered the fundamentals.

This does not mean that the world is justified in squandering its raw materials. It means only that once basic stocks are diminished to the point that their cost rises above a certain level, science can produce a synthetic substitute. Conservation of natural resources should be continued and encouraged, for so long as they last the world will be assured of a less expensive product than that which would be produced synthetically.

In the meantime, chemistry stands as a safety valve over monopoly. Once the monopolist raises the price of his natural product above a certain point he invites manufacture of a synthetic substitute. Science comes into the daily lives of all, and will become increasingly important as the years go by.

SAVINGS.

Banking statistics show that savings accounts in the United States are steadily increasing. According to reports for last year, savings accounts aggregated one-half of the total of bank deposits and reached a figure approximately 100 per cent above the total of such deposits eleven years ago. The significance of these facts is that they indicate increase of thrift on the part of those with modest incomes and that they register increase of prosperity in that class.

Competence, in the sense of a sufficient income to insure one the necessities and conveniences of life without daily toil, is a word that has almost disappeared from the spoken language. Probably the term was never good "American." In England, where freedom from exacting work and the leisure to follow one's own whims were appreciated, the word was once in common use. It was a symbol for an ideal at which many young Englishmen aimed—Independence, freedom from care, and leisure. Their toil in early days was lightened by the prospect of social security for themselves or their children.

Does the disappearance of the word in America mean also the disappearance of the ideal? The Englishman, it has been said, probably with too sharp a contrast, earns money to save; the American to spend it. The American finds his opportunities so great that he cannot believe in the possibility of his own failure. Nor does he wish to retire from business, or at least not until he is too old to work. He likes his work. Why then should he save? This is not the attitude of all young Americans but it is the attitude of too many. The dread of being called a "tightwad" has kept many a young man from practicing honorable economy.

There is every reason to believe the agricultural interests of Navarro county will enjoy another good crop year. The ground is well seasoned and the year is starting off under conditions that bring smiles of optimism to the farmers' face. The financial strain under which both the farmer and merchant labored has been lessened to a marked degree with all the signs pointing to another big crop and business year.

THE GOOD PUBLICISTS DO.

Government, like fire, is a good servant, but a bad master. Let either once escape from the most rigorous control and its tendency is to spread in every direction and seize upon whatever it touches that can be converted into fuel to strengthen and extend it. Government is no more capable of reforming itself than fire is capable of setting bounds to its own progress.

In keeping government within some sort of bounds and directing it into useful channels publicists are of the utmost value, and literary men are frequently the ablest of publicists. Incidentally, they are sometimes effective incendiaries, as well.

The fictitious case of Bardell vs. Pickwick, tried in the fertile imagination of Charles Dickens, had a profound effect on the reformation of English court procedure. There is as little doubt that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" helped to precipitate the Civil war as there is that "Ten Nights in a Barroom" is partly responsible for the eighteenth amendment.

Voltaire undermined the authority of kings, and Sinclair Lewis and Henry Menckens are stripping modern mountebanks of their dangerous control over the public mind.

Government, whether by or for the people, is capable of one active change—namely, the extension and consolidation of its own power. Into every other change it has to be whipped, either by the people or the publicists. And in this country the most effective lash is and always has been the public press. What would the government of the United States be today if the newspapers did not stand as a bulwark between the politician and corruption and tyranny?

TEACHING THE YOUNG IDEA.

There is food for thought in the statement of the United States bureau of education, that, whereas in 1900 the city boy stood one chance in seven of getting a high school education, the city boy of 1929 stands a better than even chance. Such a method of comparison emphasizes more powerfully than any statistical record of the number of high schools, the marvelous progress which a generation has made in putting free schooling at the service of a free people.

It has been proved by careful research and computation that from the purely economic standpoint the hours spent in high school are most valuable to the student, by increasing his earning capacity in after years beyond that of the boy who does not enjoy high school training. There can be no doubt that they confer at least equal benefits by enlarging mental horizons and improving the quality of citizenship. The value of high school training is so well understood by the public that within a few years it will be the exception rather than otherwise, for a boy not to get it.

The general economic advance of the nation, as exemplified for example in Corsicana, is an essential part of the high school development. The margin of surplus for the average family has grown greater. The economic necessity for the boy to leave school and go to work has steadily lessened. There are more and more high schools to supply the training, and there are more and more families able to send their boys to schools. Little wonder the rank and file of the nations of Europe envy the opportunities that prosperous and intelligent America bestows upon her boys and girls. There is nothing like it in the world.

"And I meant it," said former Governor Smith after telling how he wished Mr. Hoover good fortune. He did. That's all.

sleep was poor and I lost weight, strength and energy. Nearly everything I ate caused indigestion. I took a trip to Hot Springs, but got no relief there, and then I visited several health resorts in the North seemingly without benefit.

Right after I started taking the Sargon treatment I began to sleep better and to eat anything I wanted and now I feel like a new man. My appetite is fine. The pains in my side have disappeared. I am not the least bit nervous, and am full of new energy. I have gained weight and my friends are all commenting upon my wonderful improvement.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are wonderful. They ended my constipation and biliousness without griping in the least. I wouldn't be without Sargon if it cost twenty dollars a bottle."

The above remarkable statement was made by A. J. Mason, residing at the Colonial Hotel, Ft. Worth, and owner of considerable property in that city.

Sargon may be obtained in Corsicana from McPherson Drug Co.; in Kerens from Walker Drug Store; in Rice from Rice Pharmacy; in Richland from Brown Drug Co.; in Blooming Grove from Old Corner Drug Store; and in Dawson from Loveless Drug Co. (Adv)

SEVERAL RICHLAND HOMES ENTERED AND VALUABLES STOLEN

RICHLAND, Feb. 13.—(U)—A series of burglaries occurred here Monday night. A number of homes were entered and numerous articles, including money, jewelry, a pistol and food were missed. No definite clue has been found but it is thought that the same person or persons participated in all of the robberies.

The home of Richard Coleman was entered and some money and food was missed.

A pair of shoes, wrist watch, some money and a pistol was taken from the home of Neal Brown and Mr. Brown's overcoat was found in the yard next morning.

The home of Mrs. A. Hill was entered and the prowler went into the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, guests of Mrs. Hill while in Richland to attend the funeral of Bertie Swain who took $10, some small change, a Masonic pin and a gold watch.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the home of W. F. Tucker.

NAVARRO COUNTY
OIL CASE REACHES
STATE HIGH COURT

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(U)—The supreme court today granted a writ of error on the "importance of the question," involving enforcement by the railroad commission of oil and gas conservation rule No. 37, referring to spacing of wells in oil fields.

The case reached the court on application of J. G. Bass, who applied to the district court of Travis county for and was granted a permanent injunction against the commission from enforcing the rule, with the court of civil appeals at Austin reversing the rendering the judgment.

Bass claimed the rule was void and unenforceable because it did not come within the powers delegated by the legislature to the railroad commission, and because as applied to the land in question it was unreasonable.

Bass had applied for permission to drill ten wells on his tract of 3.12 acres in the Powell field in Navarro county. The commission refused the request, but issued an order permitting him to drill two wells.

Under the rule it is not permissible to drill nearer than 300 feet to any other completed or drilling well on same or adjoining tract or farm.

RICE RALLIES TO DEFEAT QUINT FROM BLOOMING GROVE HI

WEST NAVARRO CAGERS RAN WILD IN FIRST HALF ONLY TO LOSE LATER

After a disastrous first half in which the Blooming Grove cagers scored almost at will, Rice rallied desperately in the final periods and won a 25-10 victory in a fast, hard fought basketball game on the Y court Monday night.

During the initial period Blooming Grove and Rice battled on a practically even score with Blooming Grove holding a 10-8 advantage. In the second period, Blooming Grove broke loose and went on a scoring spree scoring six points to Rice's one. This quarter ended the threat of the Blooming Grove cagers who were held to a pair of field goals in the last half. Score at half: Blooming Grove 16, Rice 8.

After overcoming the long lead held by Blooming Grove, the Rice players resorted to stalling tactics late in the fourth period.

Lynne South, Rice captain and forward, captured high point honors with four field goals and a couple of free throws marked opposite his name.

Both center men were next in scoring line. Howard Rice, forward of Blooming Grove accounting for four field goals each. Boyd, goal tender for Blooming Grove, turned in a splendid game as did Medford and Bartlett for Rice.

JUNIOR HIGH WINS EXCITING CONTEST FROM HOWARD QUINT

Rallying desperately in the final minutes of play to tie the score 27 all and then conquer Howard 31-29 in the extra five minutes period, the Corsicana cagers took heart and scored themselves to the hearts of all basketball fans that love a fighting bunch of youngsters that never know when they're licked who were on hand for the wrap Wednesday night at the Y. M. C.

The Junior boys led the Class C champions of Ellis county 17-13 at the half way mark, but in the final lap, the Corsicana cagers took matters into their own hands and forged ahead of the Juniors only to see their hard fought lead slipping away before a desperate rally in the closing minutes.

Woe in the extra period Howard started out like a house afire and scored two points that seemed to bring victory until Hightower and Pollard, forwards for Junior High, scored two points to lead the Juniors to victory.

The Juniors put up the best scrap seen this season on the Y. court and gained ample revenge for the 19-16 loss suffered some time ago on the Trinity University gymnasium at Waxahachie at the hands of the fast stepping Howard lads.

Price, center for the Juniors, led the scoring with seven field goals and one free toss, totaling fifteen points. Reynolds, Howard forward was next in scoring honors with twelve points.

Corsicana Tigers Excelled Opposition During This Season

With the closing of the pre-tournament schedule of the Corsicana Tigers with seven victories and no defeats, a summary of the scores of the club reveal that the Tigers in the seven games scored 318 points while the opposition had to be content with 110 points.

The greatest score of the year by the Tigers was against the Mexia Black Cats when they won 58-13. Perhaps the most enjoyable victory of the season to the Tigers was their 51-19 victory over the Temple Wildcats, the club that eliminated them last year in the district competition and later won the State title.

The Hillsboro club scored the least number of points in any of the games when the Tigers held them to ten points. For the high honors in scoring against the Corsicana club, Polytechnic of Fort Worth and Temple are tied with nineteen points each.

The Tigers have averaged 45.7 points per game as compared with 15.7 points for the opposition.

Waco Tigers held the Tigers to the lowest score of the year when the tally was 33-17.

Following is the record:
Corsicana 58, Mexia 15.
Corsicana 54, Wortham 13.
Corsicana 41, Polytechnic Fort Worth 19.
Corsicana 51, Temple 19.
Corsicana 43, Waco 17.
Corsicana 45, Hillsboro 10.

Change Urged in Interscholastic League Football Procedure

BY BOYCE HOUSE.

EASTLAND, Texas, Feb. 12.—That the high school football situation in Texas calls for a change is conceded by the vast majority of the people. In order to have something before the house so that from the discussion it may be decided what the public favors, the following six points are offered:

1. Rewrite the rules in language that will need no interpretation.
2. Enact a one-year residence rule for transfers. This will eliminate the temptation, if any, to replace stars who have graduated by plucking husky lads from "the sticks" or garnering the bright and shining lights of a rival school.
3. Make the limit under 19 on Sept. 1—a year younger than it is now so that high school football shall be a boys' game in which lads of 16, 17 and 18 will not confront players who are almost old enough to vote.
4. Limit a player to a period beginning when he enrolls in high school and ending four years later. Teams is various parts of the state are composed of a considerable extent of boys who are attending high school their fifth year. The rule would eliminate the argument as to whether Fullback Razzberry or Tackle Spiffins played five years ago one minute in an official game or whether he was on the second team that far distant season.

Roaming the Realm — Or — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

Officials in charge of the Navarro County Interscholastic League basketball tournament which starts Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. announced everything in readiness for the company Thursday morning. Several changes have been made in staging the tournament this year and with seventeen teams entered, prospects are bright for a splendid tournament.

All teams entered have been notified at what time their first game is played and urged to be on hand at the appointed time. No time will be lost in drawing for places, as has been noticed in the last few tournaments, the director-general, director of athletics and county superintendent held a meeting Monday night to draw places and arrange a schedule. This was a game and will speed the tournament play along. In making this move, the above officials declared that the step was taken to speed up the tournament and allow teams that did not compete in the early games to stay in school.

Consolidated games are carried for the tournament. Friday night will be devoted to these games as the first round of play will be completed by 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. This arrangement gives each team at least two games in tournament play.

Looking over the schedule, the strong teams are about evenly divided in the two divisions, in the upper bracket, Rice and Bryan will fight it out for the right to play the final game, while in the lower group, Rural Shade, Providence and Blooming Grove will have a merry battle for supremacy.

For the first time in two years, Providence and Rural Shade will meet before the final game. These two teams are hoped to play a semi-final scrap and the victor will meet the winner of the Bryan-Rice tilt in the final game Saturday night.

The Corsicana Tigers will have only two games during the tournament, the first one Saturday night at

5. Make the district committee supreme. Let it pass all eligibility matters and certify the champion of the district—with no re-opening of the matter. Centralization of power at Austin or anywhere else is unwise and unnecessary. Our superintendent and principals cannot be trusted to do the fair, square, sportsmanlike thing, then we had better get new educators to train the hearts and minds of the boys and girls. This writer, for one, has confidence in the men who are at the head of our city school systems.

6. Require each school to file a list of players three weeks before the season opens and require the district committee to rule on all eligibility matters within two weeks thereafter. "Citizenship by public" is sufficient in the courts of Texas to cause the handing down of decisions affecting millions of dollars yearly. The plaintiff gives notice to the world through the press, and all affected are thereby put on notice to object within a certain time or "forever after hold their peace." Print the player lists with school data in all newspapers in the district; give two weeks for investigation. It's just as easy to dig up the dope then as it is when the season is two-thirds over and your team has been defeated. Clear the decks before the season opens—then may the best team win.

7 o'clock with the State Home Lads for Class A honors will be nothing more than a formality but the game Tuesday night with the winner of Class B is due to be a great scrap.

In looking over the list of entries, two new names are found. Union High school and Long Prairie are the new members into the basketball fraternity this year. These two teams have the best wishes of all members and receive them into the order with pleasure.

Here's the schedule for the tournament: Play starts Friday morning with the L. O. F. Home and Barry game at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. The first round of competition will be reeled off by 5 o'clock Friday afternoon; consolation games are slated for Friday night and the first game Saturday morning; quarter-finals start at 9 o'clock Saturday and will continue until 3 p. m.; semi-finals Saturday afternoon at 8 and 4 o'clock; Corsicana-State Home game Saturday night at 7 o'clock for Class A championship; finals in Class B at 8 p. m. Saturday; county championship game Tuesday night at 8 p. m.

Immediately after the county tournament, Corsicana begins training for the district tournament held in Waxahachie Friday and Saturday, February 22nd and 23rd. The Tigers are hoped to win the district title, how much farther this wonderful Tiger team will go is a matter of guesswork but we hope for them the state championship.

As a final reminder, coaches and teams be sure and be at the Y. M. C. A. for your games on time. If not, warning has been issued that games will be forfeited. So Long—Best of luck in the tournament.

Tennis Tournament For Teague Teams

TEAGUE, Feb. 13.—(Spl.)—G. C. Gregory, principal of the Teague high school, who has charge of the tennis teams, has matched the first tournament of the season with the Dew squad. Matches in both singles and doubles will be played next Friday at Teague, between the boys' teams of each school.

It has not been definitely determined just who will play for the Teague squad in the coming match, however Doyle McSpadden is pretty sure of a berth.

PLACES ARE DRAWN FOR EVENTS FRIDAY FINALS SATURDAY

IMPORTANT CHANGE MADE IN MANNER OF DRAWING FOR PLACES

Places were drawn and the schedule arranged for the Navarro county boys basketball tournament to be held at the Y. M. C. A. February 15th and 16th at a meeting of the director-general, O. F. Allen, director of athletics, A. A. Vance and county superintendent, Andrew G. Steele, Monday night.

The following schedule was arranged after the drawing:
Friday:
8 a. m.—T.O.O.F. Home vs. Barry.
9 a. m.—Navarro vs. Purdon.
10 a. m.—Rice vs. Union High.
11 a. m.—Bryan vs. Currie.
2 p. m.—Rural Shade vs. Dawson.
3 p. m.—Blooming Grove vs. Emhouse.

4 p. m.—Long Prairie vs. Providence.
In the drawing, McCord drew a bye and goes into quarter final competition without a game. Friday night will be given over to consolation games, the following arrangement was made in order that all teams entered might play at least two games during the meet:

5 p. m.—The losers in the 8 and 9 o'clock games play.
7 p. m.—The losers in the 10 and 11 o'clock games play.
8 p. m.—The losers in the 3 and 4 o'clock games play.

The loser in the 2 o'clock game draws a bye in consolation and meets the loser in the 8 o'clock Friday night Saturday morning at 8.

With the exception of the consolation game at 8 o'clock Saturday, will be devoted entirely to quarter final competition. Saturday afternoon contains the semi-final play. Saturday night at 7 o'clock the Corsicana Tigers and the State Home Lads play off the championship of Class A. At 8 o'clock, the final game in Class B will be held.

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, the winner of Class A meets the Class B champions for the county championship. The game will be played on the court.

Admission prices to the tournament were set at 25 cents for all games Friday, 25 cents for games Saturday morning and afternoon, 25 cents for the games Saturday night. The championship game Tuesday night can be seen for 25 cents. All games played during the tourney can be seen for $1.

The following letter was sent to each team entered by Professor O. F. Allen, director general, and A. A. Vance, director of athletics, Tuesday morning:
"You will notice one change in the basketball tournament that is to be held in Corsicana next Friday and Saturday, 15th and 16th Superintendent Steele, Mr. A. A. Vance, the athletic director, and myself have gone ahead and drawn places for the different schools that are participating in the tournament. This is practiced by all big tournaments, and to save time for each school in the county we have undertaken the step which we hope will be satisfactory to all coaches and teams. Heretofore one-third of the school population of the county have come to Corsicana in the early morning of the first day of the tournament, and certainly over half of these teams or schools would wait until the late afternoon and evening before they play."

"We are not making any apology for the progressive step, but we do want you to know that it has been done in an unbiased manner."

"It teams are not present at their allotted time to play the game will be forfeited by them."

J. A. Bone of Pursley was in Corsicana Thursday afternoon on business.

One-Day Poultry School At Mexia By Home Agent

MEXIA, Feb. 13.—(Spl.)—Two representatives of each rural home demonstration club of Limestone county will gather here Saturday for a one-day poultry demonstration study under Miss Verna Evans, home demonstration agent. Miss Evans will take the women and girls the model poultry farm of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, to hatcheries and poultry breeding farms here and show them best methods.

At noon the group will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon, and after the study will be given a theatre party.

CUBS START TREK OF MAJORS TOWARD TRAINING CAMPS

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—Confident of bringing Chicago its first National league pennant in eleven years, the advance guard of the Cubs was bound for Catalina Island and its training camp today. Manager Joe McCarthy headed the party, composed almost wholly of batters. Several pitchers and catchers will board the train en route, while the second detachment leaves on February 24.

McCarthy was happy but reticent about discussing pennant chances.

With Rogers Hornsby batting and fielding for us, it looks like we are going to win the flag at last," McCarthy said. "But don't be too confident. We need a good pitcher, especially a reliable south-paw, and we need him badly. Then we may have more than our share of accidents. But let's talk about the weather."

The early party expects to get to work Monday or Tuesday.

MAN IS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH RICHLAND BURGLARY

Alton Anderson was arrested in Richland Wednesday night by Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse and Deputy Sheriff V. McMurray and brought to the Navarro county jail in connection with the alleged entering of the room of Dr. J. C. Stephens Tuesday night and taking a pistol.

A complaint for burglary was filed Thursday morning against the accused man in Judge S. B. Jordan's court.

Officers reported that the youth made a statement in connection with the case.

The case will probably be submitted to the Navarro county grand jury Monday.

L. L. Touchstone, manager of the shoe department of Jarrell-Elliott Dry Goods Company, returned Wednesday night from the Southwestern Shoe Dealers' convention in Fort Worth.

WILDCAT GASSER CATCHES FIRE AS TOOLS BLOWN OUT

SIMMS COMPANY IS SEEKING CONTROL OF PENNOK OIL CORPORATION

PAMPA, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—Marland Production Company's No. 1, a semi-wildcat gasser in the central part of the Gray county gas and oil area, caught fire today after blowing the tools out of the hole. The well is six miles south of Pampa and the Ewen-Finley section 32, block E2, an oil flow is estimated at 20,000,000 feet.

The derrick was burned, and last reports from the well said the flames were shooting high. No one was injured.

Officials of the company said it may be necessary to shoot out the fire.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—The first step in reducing the daily average oil production of Oklahoma to a maximum of 650,000 barrels, as agreed upon by operators at a recent meeting at Tulsa, became effective today. Production of production went into force in the Greater Seminole and St. Louis areas.

The mission pool agreement, to take effect at midnight tonight, has encountered considerable opposition, and developments were awaited today. The agreement, which provides for drilling in of the wells now on the sand and for pinching production to 200 barrels per day and also delaying the second crop of two wells to each 40 acre unit until March 15, is opposed by the Panosco Oil Company, Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, H. F. Wilcox Oil and Gas Company, and Senator W. B. Pine.

Allowed production in the Seminole City, Powells, Seagriff, Earlsboro and Little River pools has been fixed at 82 per cent of the potential output.

Simms Seeks Control. NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—Petroleum Company has offered to acquire through an exchange of shares controlling interest in the Pennok Oil Corporation, which has oil and gas leases in Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Montana, it was learned today.

The offer is for exchange of one share of Simms capital stock for four shares of Pennok capital stock, providing at least 51 per cent of outstanding Pennok stock is deposited on or before March 29 or within 30 days thereafter if the time limit be extended.

Simms, now producing about 10,000 barrels of petroleum daily, has a large potential production in West Texas.

Record For Deepest Well. DALLAS, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—On a 24-hour test, Group One Corporation's (Texas) No. 1-B University in Reagan county, the world's deepest oil well, established a new peak of 1,947.5 barrels of 56.3 gravity oil. This was an increase of 140 barrels over the previous 24-hour period, the biggest day's gain since the well began flowing on Dec. 1 from the fourth pay, entered at 8,523 feet.

The Refugio county oil field has been extended about one-half mile with the bringing in of the Mission

Returns From Sad Mission to Old Home

Clifford B. Haley, member of the Daily Sun force for many years, has returned from his old home in Columbia, Tenn., where he was called last week by the death of a sister, Mrs. W. W. Walker. Mr. Haley attended his sister's burial in Columbia Friday and later went to Chattanooga to spend a day with another sister living there.

ABLE TO BE OUT AGAIN. Wm. Clarkson, Sr., who has been confined to a hospital and his home for the past several weeks as the result of a prolonged attack of influenza, is able to be out again and left Wednesday for a visit to South Texas for a few days. Mr. Clarkson's many friends are delighted to learn that he is rapidly regaining his strength and wonted health after his prolonged shut-in period.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse went to Rustic Texas to place a person adjudged of unsound mind in the state asylum there.

Good Kansas Well. WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—The Gardner Petroleum Company's No. 2 Gerdon in the NE. SW. of 32-16-2, McPherson county, after being opened up yesterday, flowed 25 barrels an hour in a seven-hour test. The hole is bottomed at 2,961 feet.

Haworth and Schreck will drill a wildcat test on a block of 1,500 acres in south central Marion county. The test will be in the SE. NW. of 30-21-3 east, and will be drilled to the Wilcox sand.

Drilling Company's No. 1 Nellie B. Curmins to a depth of 3,700 feet with an estimated flow of 700 barrels daily. The well is southeast of the nearest previous producer in the field.

ECONOMIC ASPECTS PUBLIC JUNIOR COLLEGES DISCUSSED BY CITIZEN OF HILLSBORO

"Economic Aspect of Public Junior Colleges" is the title of a treatise prepared by Judge A. M. Frazer of Hillsboro, formerly district judge of Hill county. The paper was prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association held in San Antonio last November, but contains considerable information desired by the public with the junior college legislation now before the law-making bodies.

In the discussion, the judge avoids any reference to the academic standards, or the curriculum that should be used, confining himself solely to a treatment of the economic value of the junior college, to the parents, the community, and the state.

"What will the cost be to the state and what will be the probable saving?" is the first question presented in the articles. The treatise follows:

"This is two questions in one. The proper answer to each will involve (1) the plan for the establishment of the college; and (2) the method of support.

"Personally, I hold to the view that the junior college, like other things, should be supported by the state and the community, and that the benefits conferred by it.

"We have learned much in recent years with respect to the wisdom and equity involved in the factor of 'equity' in the distribution of public funds. That is to say, the cost should be distributed in accordance with ability to pay and benefits derived.

"What is Reasonable Cost?" "We must, therefore, at the outset determine what is a reasonable cost for the junior college. This type of instruction may well be considered, as will be stated by my distinguished collaborator, Dr. Eby, as the finishing school of secondary education. It should, therefore, cost more than high school education, and appreciably less than strictly public higher education. How much more than the one, and how much less than the other, is a matter which the economic mind operating in the field of education must determine.

"The legislature of the state had determined satisfactorily to itself how much should be charged to the public for high school education. In other words, it has fixed the market price at $5.00 per month for tuition, or $45.00 for 9 months' term. This sum must, therefore, be accepted for the time being as approximately adequate for that type and grade of public education.

"At this time public money invested in buildings, grounds, and near-permanent equipment in our higher institutions of learning aggregates approximately $12,000,000. The public is entitled to charge against this sum at least four per cent, which represents the prevailing bond rate of interest, as an annual cost on this investment and to charge this sum against the total number of students enrolled. Four per cent interest on this sum is annually approximately $504,000. Add to this the items in the appropriation bills which are designed to pay for administrative costs and up-keep, and divide this aggregate sum by the total enrollment in our higher institutions, and this will indicate that the state is paying approximately the sum of $313.50 per capita for the students enrolled for the full term in our higher institutions. Thus the legislature has determined that the proper costs, on a full term basis, is for high school education $45.00 and for education in higher institutions approximately $313.50 per student.

"I know there are those who hold to the view that the actual cost of education for freshmen and sophomores is less than the average cost of the four levels in the senior schools. But before that deduction can be safely made, many difficult problems, which apparently have not been taken into account, must be considered. One of these questions is, not what the freshmen and sophomore levels as now maintained are actually costing, but what they would cost if properly maintained. As a matter of fact, the exact relative cost seems not to be known at this time, and it is hardly susceptible of exact mathematical determination.

"Speaking relatively, therefore, we may say that high school education should cost the public $50.00 per student, and higher education for freshmen and sophomores reasonably should cost $300.00 per nine months' term in the senior colleges as they are now maintained.

"Cost Spread Too Great

"I for one, hold that the spread of costs between high school and the senior college as fixed by our present plan is too great; and that without loss, and probably with a gain in efficiency of instruction, vast sums of money can be saved by properly organizing and maintaining a reasonable number of junior colleges. Economically speaking, our present system of public education from the grammar grades through the senior college seems somewhat weighted down with obsolescence. Our relief must be found, as they say in the field of mechanics, in new discovery and new invention. It is the belief of many that the junior college offers such hope of relief.

"Whether it does or not will, of course, depend on the plan of its organization and the manner of its support. Unless the financial support of the proposed junior college is properly planned, it may prove an economic waste; unless it is properly organized for the service it is to perform, it may prove a curse to those who are forced to depend upon it for any part of their education; but if wisely organized and properly administered, it will, in my opinion, prove a blessing to our people, both in economy and in service.

"Under the existing system of public education in this state, higher education is costing approximately six times as much as high school education. Let us see if the junior college properly organized as an adjunct or extra cog in our educational system cannot be maintained at about three times the present cost of high school education and at about one-half the present cost of higher education.

"Presents Hillsboro College

"To make my point clear, let me take a school of this type with the actual operation of which I am fairly familiar—the Hillsboro Junior College. This school is accommodating nearly 200 students during the present long term. If these students were still in high school, they would be costing the state, on the present basis, $10,000 a year. According to statistics which have been obtained by others, if the Hillsboro college was not in existence, only fifty per cent, or 100 of these students, would be in higher institutions. The others would have dropped further educational pursuit. The 100 students continuing their education would be costing the state at least $30,000 a year. This, of course, does not include any of the cost to the parents incident to maintaining their children in the higher institution. The latter cost would easily add another $50,000 to the actual cost. If the state should assume control of all junior colleges and should provide $75.00 per student on the cost of instruction, the 200 students would cost the state annually only $15,000 instead of $30,000 for 100 students under the present plan. Manifestly a similar saving in dollars and cents would be had in each unit organized in the state. At the same time the state would gain whatever advantage there is in providing this type of instruction for two students instead of one.

"This $15,000 would represent the cost to the state. The state would save a similar sum on each such college. This is in addition to the saving to patrons. What the individual saves by conserving his resources, is also of monetary value to the state and the locality in which he lives. This is true because it removes him from a state of poverty and public care to a condition of self support and enables him to accumulate a competence upon which taxes may be paid for the public welfare.

"Saving For Community

"If the Hillsboro college were not in existence, it follows that the patrons of the school would be called upon to expend an aggregate $50,000 for students' maintenance. This saving is available for any purpose for which money may be needed. It may be used to build homes, to pay indebtedness, to buy food and clothing, or to accumulate deposits, which in turn may be loaned to those who need to borrow.

"Under the present plan the patrons of the Hillsboro Junior College pay $100 per year per student. They would gladly welcome a fixed plan by which they would pay $75 a year tuition instead of spending $500 a year for maintenance in a higher institution, thus saving the net sum of $425 each on at least 100 students, and securing the benefit of additional service for two children instead of one.

"We have found that it does not take much argument to convince our local patrons that our Hillsboro college is a financial blessing; that this saving is a reality and not a hoax. They are not much concerned with the argument that all public education should be entirely free. The actual saving makes the free education theory become a fancy.

Community Also Contributes

There is yet another entity which in justice and equity should contribute to the cost of the local college; this is the community. The local community at Hillsboro is contributing annually approximately $45,000 for the maintenance of public education below the junior college level. This it must continue to do. But by the existence of the junior college, it derives both financial and social benefits. On account of the existence of the college $50,000 per year is saved; this is a direct benefit for the reasons heretofore stated. To the extent that worthwhile people move into the locality, the college is an additional asset. The community profits also by the education service supplied to the 100 extra students. And a considerable benefit, both social and financial, is received on account of the junior college faculty.

"On the basis of a 200 student college this sinking fund on a requisita bond issue for buildings, grounds, and equipment will be approximately $2400 a year. The college returns a full consideration for this community expenditure.

"Thus, if the community will supply the building, grounds, and equipment, and the state will supply $75.00 and the parents another $75.00 per student, there will be created a total sum of $30,000 with which to administer the college.

"Approximately $2400 will be required annually for incidental expenses, or overhead. If the college is organized and administered by the superintendent of public school system, supervised by local board of trustees, $1,000 will be adequate as a supplement to the executive's salary; and if the principal of the high school, as in our case, is also dean of the college, $800 should represent a fair charge against the college to supplement the dean's salary. Then in order to insure adequate funds for the maintenance of a library and equipment, probably about $5.00 per student, or $1,600 per year should be set aside for this purpose out of the total receipts. This sum will certainly in a very short time provide the college with adequate library facilities and ample equipment. These items represent a total of $5,500, or say, $5,000. The balance, or approximately $24,000, will be available for the salary of teachers. Since not more than ten teachers will be required, an average salary of $2400 for the four months' course will be available. Proper administration might require modification of these items, but they are certainly approximately correct.

"Therefore, upon this plan the cost to the state will be $15,000 a year for 200 students in the local college instead of $30,000 for 100 students in the senior college. The cost to the parents will be $15,000 a year for the 200 students and the saving will be at least $5,000. The cost to the community will be $2,400 a year, but the saving will vastly exceed that sum.

"These may be said to fairly cover the items of costs and saving from the standpoint of dollars and cents, but they do not take into account the conservation of manhood and womanhood made possible by keeping children two years longer under parental care.

"There is, I think, great need in this state for proper legislation concerning the organization and maintenance of the junior college. Yet it is a subject which properly requires the best thought in the country. It is to be hoped that when the matter comes before our legislative body, it will receive expert attention and deliberate thought. If some such plan as the one here suggested should be adopted, there will be no need for an arbitrary tax requirement as to property valuation. If the community is able to provide the buildings, grounds and equipment, and the state and parents supply the $75.00 each, per student, the factor of taxation becomes unimportant.

CENTRAL FIGURE IN ALLEGED KIDNAPPING WILL BE WITNESS

LEGISLATURE NOW PROVING CHECK GIVEN BY WOMAN EVANGELIST TO JUDGE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(T)—Kenneth G. Ormiston, Gladwin Nichols and Miss Bernice Morris were included among witnesses summoned for appearance today before a legislative committee regarding its investigation of Almer Semple McPherson's gift of $2,500 to Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy, and the Angelus Temple pastor's alleged kidnapping two years ago.

Ormiston, former radio operator at the Temple, was charged with having occupied a cottage at Carmel, Cal., with Mrs. McPherson during a part of the time she was alleged to have been kidnapped. Nichols left Angelus Temple, where he was band leader, some months ago. He intimated at that time he believed not all had been told regarding the alleged kidnapping. Miss Morris was secretary to the late R. A. McKinley, Long Beach attorney, who at one time said he "Again, there is, perhaps, a greater need for proper education in the poor community than in one of greater wealth. It is, I believe, unwise to attempt the county-wide movement for the establishment of a college. This would require a separate institution, a separate president, a separate dean, and a separate board of trustees, and the saving otherwise possibly would be minimized.

French Reporters in Duel Near Foch Home Combatants Uninjured

PARIS, Feb. 14.—(T)—The illness of Marshal Foch had an unexpected repercussion today in a duel between two newspapermen assigned to his home during his illness. Marquis Henri De Sombreuil took offense at some remark made by Georges Chappreau which he considered a reflection upon all the newspapermen who had waited patiently day in and day out for news of the marshal.

A challenge followed and early was in possession of information about the asserted kidnappers. The committee is seeking to determine whether impeachment action shall be taken against Judge Hardy by the legislature.

today they met. De Sombreuil fired into the ground, while Chappreau's bullet went wild.

The combatants shook hands then retired to the nearest cafe to bind their reconciliation with a hot drink.

Dr. Daveniere, physician to Marshal Foch, was present at the duel.

IN MEMORY OF DR. BAUD BROWN.

In the late afternoon of Jan. 27, 1923, death came to relieve this dear one of a long and severe physical suffering. But thanks be to the Lord for His grace given to him whereby he was reconciled at all times to His will and expressed himself to his many friends and loved ones as being willing and ready to depart this life. May the Lord, whom he trusted, comfort the bereaved father and mother and family, and may they, too, be as faithful as he through all his suffering, for he bore it all with a word of complaint. Let us not grieve after him, for the Lord knows best and we must submit to His will.

Oh, friend of mine, departed, 'Twould be a wicked thing if I aught but honest friendship should prompt my heart to sing. But since my song be honest, And since my heart be true, I'll say good-bye to you, dear, I'll say good-bye to you.

I looked into your coffin and bid my sorrow cease.

When on your pale lips I saw a smile of perfect peace,

For something seemed to tell me that safe across the tide

Your soul had made its journey and won the port ablight.

You had a lip of laughter, you had a witty tongue,

And well I know we will miss you among the merry crowd.

Your form was of medium height, And you had a sparkling eye,

And how come death to spoil it all not ours to question why.

Green be the grass above you and sweet the roses bloom

That loving hands may lay on the mound above your silent tomb

And quickly they'll bloom about me too.

And so good-bye to you, dear one, a last good-bye to you.

And while I sit and write this my heart is very sad,

But to know that you are with Jesus makes me feel so glad.

SECRET SPRINGS OF POWER WHICH PREVAIL OVER LIFE

Forces Which Affect Men and Things, Yet Go Un-noted by a Heedless World—Prayer as a Reality In the Experience of the Ages.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Riding in the subway the other day, I noticed that the man next to me was reading the New Testament. Then he closed the book and bowed his head and shut his eyes; and I knew that he was praying. As a great wave, the sense of mystery and marvel of prayer swept over me. Here was a stranger, whom I could reach out my hand and touch, who had suddenly shut himself off from the crowd of his fellow passengers, and from the roar and racket of the subway, and he was talking with God! What was he asking of the Father in heaven? Did he have some special need unsuspected by the world? What transports of peace were swelling in his soul? Was God more near and real to him than I, and the other human beings lurching against him and in front of him?

"Behold, he prayeth!" can never be written except in words of wonder and awe. Before my eyes in the subway that day was being enacted the supreme marvel of mortal possibility—the spirit of man engaged in a transaction with the Supreme Spirit.

That man to whom the subway was a secret closet of prayer wherein he was shut apart with God typifies the great reality of the spiritual life. In every place and in every condition and in every age men have thus prayed, and in praying have found peace and power. None of our busy statisticians can compute the number and sort of people who pray, nor can any earthly record be kept of answered prayers. Yet prayer is a factor and force in human affairs.

When The King Got Well.

When King George lay ill—hopelessly ill, the wise ones said—people all around the world prayed for his recovery. In stately churches and in lowly cottages and in strange and diverse tongues, prayers arose for his majesty's recovery. And he is getting well, by the blessing of God upon the ministry of the physicians. Newspapers reported the prayers; but no newspaper has since linked the prayers with the recovery, as cause and effect. Nevertheless, many millions of Christians, who believe that "the prayer of faith shall heal the sick," have their own convictions upon the subject.

By its very nature, prayer is a mystery; and it is not given to any man to say of a certitude just which prayers have been answered, and how. But every mature Christian can testify, as he looks back across the years, that in ways beyond his foretelling, God has answered the substance of his life's prayers. This is the testimony of the ages. Swift and dramatic answers to prayers there have been, beyond doubt, but for the moment we cite only this cloud of witnesses from the days of the Bible until now.

Out of Old Books.

In my hand I hold a little old leather-bound book, published almost two hundred years ago. It uses the quaint type of long ago, with the long "s" which looks like "f"; and its pages are brown with time. Isaac Watts wrote the Dedication and Preface, in 1737; and the author was Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe, then an aged gentlewoman. The book is called "Devout Exercises of the Heart," and it throbs with the timeless passion of sincere Christian devotion.

More than a hundred years before Elizabeth Rowe's book, Jeremy Taylor penned counsel on prayer that is as timely as though written yesterday:

"Converse with God by frequent prayer. In particular, desire that your desires may be right, and love to have your affections regular and holy. To which purpose make very frequent addresses to God by ejaculations and communions, and an assiduous daily devotion; discover to Him all your wants; complain to Him of all your affronts; do as Hezekiah did, lay your misfortunes and your ill news before Him, spread them before the Lord; call to Him for health, run to Him for counsel, beg of Him for pardon; and it is as natural to love Him to whom we make such addresses, and of whom we have such dependencies, as it is for children to love their parents."

Still earlier in the first half of the twelfth century, St. Bernard was praying, in phrases which might be our own:

"O Lord, come quickly and reign on Thy throne, for now oft-times something rises up within me, and tries to take possession of Thy throne: pride, covetousness, uncleanness, and sloth want to be my kings; and then evil-speaking, anger, hatred, and the whole train of vices join with me in warring against myself, and try to reign over me. I resist them. I cry out against them, and say, 'I have no other king than Christ.' O King of Peace, come and reign in me, for I will have no king but Thee! Amen."

Prayers Over the Radio.

Prayers penned on parchment by monks long, long centuries ago express the same living devotion as comes to us moderns, morning by morning, over radio. Doubtless myriads of persons share every day the worship which is broadcast over an extensive chain of radio stations. For spiritual hunger is as real and as deep today as it was in the era of asceticism. Prayer still changes things and spirits. It is the soul's daily bread, without which spiritual life cannot be maintained.

Indeed, the incomprehensible fact of the radio itself makes prayer seem more natural. As an unknown poet has beautifully written:

"If radio's slim fingers can pluck melody from the night
And toss it over continent or sea;
If the pattered white notes of a violin
Can be blown across a mountain or a city's din;
If songs like crimson roses are culled from the thin blue air,
Why should mortals wonder
If God hears prayer?"

Long-Distance Calls.

While in the midst of writing this Lesson, I was called to the telephone for a long-distance conversation with a friend hundreds of miles distant; and our talk was as intimate as though we sat face to face. But prayer is not a "long-distance call"; for "closer is He than breathing, nearer than hands or feet." In a profound sense we "draw near" to God in prayer. And it is the testimony of countless Christians that God is closer and more real to them than wife or husband, brother or sister, workmate or friend. That intimacy is more transforming than any earthly relationship. In the familiar lines of Archbishop Trent:—

"Lord what a change within us one short hour
Spent in Thy presence will avail to make!
What heavy burdens from our bosoms take,
What parched grounds refresh as rain,
We kneel, and all around us seems to lower;
We rise, and all the distant and the near,
Stands forth in sunny outline brave and clear;
We kneel, how weak; we rise, how full of power!
Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong,
Or others, that we are not always strong.
That we are ever everborne with care,
That we should ever weak or heartless be.
Anxious or troubled, when with us in prayer,
And joy and strength and courage are with Thee!"

Quickest and shortest and most effective of all the roads to ministry is that which runs by the throne of God. There "friend holds fellowship with friend." There life finds its relationships adjusted. There, as a central Dynamo, life finds a source of power. There peace flows ceaselessly. There the we are strong in ways beyond the world's knowing. There the spiritual becomes the real; and God reveals Himself to His children. If prayer was a necessity to Jesus, how much the more does mortal need its sustaining strength! "Lord, teach us to pray."

TENANT WITNESS BEFORE PROBERS OF STATE DEPARTMENT

CLOSELY QUESTIONED BY TWO MEMBERS OF STATE
HIGHWAY COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(AP)—R. I. Tennant, purchasing member of the board of control, last night repeated much of his former testimony relative to machinery "buys" of the state highway department, before the joint legislative committee investigating the two departments.

He was grilled by Cone Johnson and Judge Walter Ely, members of the commission, as to his position in the controversies over

W. Lichtyler, 20 acres of the J. L. McCracklin survey, $10.

C. E. Livingston to H. D. Bennett, 11.13 acres of the Enoch Frier survey $140.

Justice Court.

Judge W. W. Clopton imposed fines Tuesday on three persons for affrays.

A letter was introduced from the equipment requisitioned by the department and the purchase of which he opposed.

Tennant said the board of control made purchases for 97 state departments and that so far it had entered into controversies with only two, the highway department and the University board of regents with reference to an order for furniture in the Littlefield dormitory.

At one point Johnson objected to "the animus being exhibited by Tennant" and at another juncture Gibb Gilchrist, state engineer, declared he had received from Tennant a letter and a newspaper advertisement advising the board of control of a new price on tractors.

"I gave the letter and advertisement to Mr. Gilchrist in my office, didn't I, Mr. Gilchrist?" Tennant asked.

"No, you didn't," Gilchrist replied from his seat at counsel table.

"Then I haven't any more to say," Tennant retorted.

Tennant was testifying to a purchase of 13 ten ton tractors from a dealer who had lowered the price and so advertised the new price after making the bid for the state's business and before shipping instructions were given.

The company had bid $4,972 and offered to take in second hand tractors at $400 each. The tractors were later, and while the bids were pending, advertised for $4,918, and Tennant brought the reduction to the attention of the company.

A letter was introduced from the company in which it offered to deliver new tractors on its bid and permit the department to retain the second hand tractors.

Tennant said he favored buying the tractors at the new price but the department insisted on paying $4,972 and keeping the old tractors.

After Joe Orberg, former equipment inspector for the highway department, had testified that certain employees had used state gasoline and parts in their private automobiles, giving their names, the committee ordered the testimony stricken from the record as "hearsay."

INSURANCE POLICY BENEFICIARY HELD IN FARMER'S DEATH

TENANT FARMER HELD AFT- ER ALLEGED ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING OF OTHER MAN

GREELEY, Neb., Feb. 14.—(U)—The death of a farmer four hours before his $20,000 insurance policy would have expired had resulted in the arrest of his young tenant, beneficiary under the policy.

When Fred Helsler, 58, died February 4, authorities accepted the story of his neighbor and tenant, A. W. Emery, 22, that Helsler accidentally shot himself when the two were hunting.

Later it was learned Helsler and Emery each had taken out a $20,000 life insurance policy two months before, naming each other as beneficiary. Emery arranged for the policies and paid the initial premium on both.

Because of failure to keep up the premiums, the policies were to expire at midnight, February 4. Helsler died at 8 o'clock that night. Emery had made no attempt to collect the $20,000 when arrested yesterday. He insisted that Helsler was accidentally shot and that the policies were part of a plan of a plan of financing a partnership in the cattle feeding business.

NEW HEAD SELECTED FOR SALVATION ARMY BY HIGH COUNCIL

SUNBURY, ON, THAMES, Eng., Feb. 14.—(U)—Eugene Booth, head of the Salvation Army in the United States, today assured Edward J. Higgins, the newly-elected general of the united support of the Army in America.

Commissioner Booth, sister of General Bramwell Booth, the deposed leader, and long one of the chief figures of the reform movement within the Army, spoke at an informal meeting of the high council today during which she testified to her joy that the Army had reached safer channels.

Today's meeting was to consider various questions arising from the council's action yesterday in adjudicating General Booth physically unfit to continue in his high office and in electing Commissioner Higgins, chief of staff, the new commander-in-chief.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(U)—The Salvation Army had a new commander-in-chief today, its former commissioner, Edward J. Higgins, of England. The immediate future of the army, however, seemed to depend upon the actions of its deposed head, General Bramwell Booth.

Higgins was chosen at a secret session of its high council last night, receiving 42 votes against 17 for Commissioner Evangelical Booth, sister of General Booth. The action followed adjudication earlier in the day of General Booth as unfit, because of his health, to continue at his post.

General Booth has already taken his adjudication as unfit once to the courts of England and there is nothing to indicate he will not do so again. Some London newspapers today state positively he will continue his Chancery court action challenging the validity of the deed poll of 1904, under which the high council functioned.

Elsewhere it was unofficially stated he would refuse the new army custody of army property and money which remains in his charge as trustee. A court order to compel him to give in here might be sought in such a contingency.

METHODIST BOARD COMMITTEE MET IN GEORGETOWN TODAY

GEORGETOWN, Feb. 14.—(U)—In executive session, the Methodist educational commission's sub-committee on consolidation and relocation today discussed problems confronting the denomination's schools in Texas.

Members of the committee made no other announcement that they expected the entire day would be devoted to consideration of Southwestern university here.

Attending were: Bishop Sam R. Hay, Houston; Bishop John M. Moore, Dallas; A. G. Koenig, Denton; E. B. Hawk, Fort Worth; E. G. Gillett, Georgetown; President King Vivion, Southwestern.

Court House News

District Court.
Wednesday afternoon, Marvin Dyer entered pleas of guilty to three cases of burglary and three cases of theft in the district court and was given five years in each case. Singleton Grace and Forest Frost also pleaded guilty to three cases of burglary and three cases of theft each and were given two and five years in each case. The trio were indicted this week by the grand jury in connection with the alleged burglary of the Navarro Wholesale Grocery, Inc.

Roy Reiger, negro, pleaded guilty to an indictment for assault with intent to murder and was given a 5-year suspended sentence.

The petit jury for the week was excused by Hawkins, Scarborough, district judge, until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

District Clerk's Office.
The following case was filed: Gladys Boren vs. The Mountain Valley Water Company, a corporation. Damages, $2,500. Actual damages, $2,500. Exemplary damages, $5,000. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant, physical director of the Corsicana public schools, was struck by a truck of the defendant about 11 o'clock on the night of January 31, 1929, when she alighted from a street car at the intersection of West Third and North Fifteenth streets and her back severely lacerated and her nervous system shattered. The petition further alleged that the car was going at a high rate of speed and that the driver did not stop for the stop sign there nor did he stop and render aid. The plaintiff alleged that she was still under the care of a physician and unable to do her work.

Workmen began the razing of the house at the southeast intersection of North Twelfth and West Fourth avenue Wednesday, preparatory to the erection of the Kanner Bros. ice factory and ice station in the immediate future.

A $30,000 plant is to be erected there within the next 60 days and the awarding of the contract is expected to be announced shortly.

Present plans are for the completion of the plant and the beginning of operations not later than April 1.

Three Youths Held In Robberies Admit Giving Away Loot

MINNEOLA, N. Y., Feb. 14.—(U)—Three 18-year-old youths, held in connection with a score of robberies in Nassau county, were said by police today to have admitted giving away $50,000 worth of jewelry to girl friends and relatives.

Detectives found one of the girls, a servant in a Jersey City home, washing dishes wearing a $6,000 diamond ring, and a waitress with a $2500 diamond wrist watch. Both articles were identified by police as having been part of the loot obtained in recent robberies of rich homes on Long Island.

The three youths were arrested in Queens Sunday while robbing an apartment house.

RESULT OF VOTING FOR CHAMBER BOARD MEMBERS ANNOUNCED

J. E. BUTLER, W. P. BROWN AND TED FERGUSON ARE NEW FACES

J. E. Butler, W. P. Brown and Ted Ferguson will be new faces in the 1929-30 directorate of the chamber of commerce, as a result of the recent election which reinstated the four former board members included in the total list of fourteen nominees presented to the membership by a mail ballot. F. N. Drane, E. L. Wheelock, C. Jester and Sydney Marks were returned to the directorate. Results of the election were announced at the chamber Thursday morning by J. H. Woods, chairman of the tally committee.

Other well known citizens included in the nomination list were A. A. Allison, Joe B. Fortson, Earl W. Ellis, Allyn Lang, Clyde Foster, Wade Smith and E. H. Davis. Some of the group missed selection to the board by just a few votes, it was explained. The names of Lowry Martin, George Baum, Dr. T. P. McLendon and Arthur G. Elliott were written in the ballots by various members.

The elected personnel of the new board will consist of C. L. Jester, F. N. Drane, J. M. Dyer, Sr., J. N. Edens, J. L. Halbert, W. H. Hastings, Beauford Jester, W. P. McCammon, Sydney Marks, W. C. Stroube, Ed M. Polk, R. L. Wheelock, J. E. Butler, W. P. Brown and Ted Ferguson.

After this elected board chooses officers for the new year the new president will appoint three additional one-year-term board members, subject to approval by the board, which will complete the directorate membership of eighteen. Terms of elected directors are two years, with eight terms expiring in 1930.

PIERCE WAS AGAIN NAMED PRESIDENT OF RETAIL MERCHANTS

Festus A. Pierce was unanimously re-elected president of the Corsicana Retail Merchants' Association for the coming year at the regular meeting of the new board of directors Thursday morning at the chamber of commerce. E. H. Davis was named vice president; M. A. Spurgeon, treasurer, and Fred White, secretary.

Numerous problems confronting the association were frankly discussed by the directors of the association at their first meeting of the new year.

Norwegian Steamer Floated Thursday

LEWIS, Del., Feb. 14.—(U)—The Norwegian steamer Hertha, from Cuba for Philadelphia, went aground on Turner's Lump, off Assateague, Va., during a snow storm yesterday and was floated today. The coast guard crew from Assateague assisted in the floating of the steamer. The Hertha, which has a cargo of sugar, apparently was undamaged.

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT FACES MEXICAN CHARGES

VALENZUELA DECLARED TO BE FOMENTING REBELLION; DENIES REPORTS

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—(U)—Campaign activities of Gilberto Valenzuela, former minister to Great Britain and presidential candidate, today brought charges that he was fomenting rebellion.

The charges were vehemently denied by his adherents. His opponents labelled him "Captain General de Cristeros"—Captain General of Cristeros referring to the insurgent movement in Jalisco. "Cristeros" is derived from their battle cry, "Vivo Cristo Rey" or "Long Live Christ King."

Publication here of a speech delivered by Valenzuela Saturday at Hermosillo, Sonora, gave some backing to the charges against him. In that speech he bitterly attacked the government of President Emilio Portes Gil, but even more strenuously attacked former President Calles.

He declared he was not directing his campaign for the presidential nomination of the national revolutionary party so much against Ortiz Rubio and Aaron Saez, his opponents, as against Calles. The former president has repeatedly said he will not make the race for the presidency.

The charges against Valenzuela were made in a meeting late yesterday of the mixed congressional commission, a committee of congressmen which functions in national emergencies when congress is in recess, and which met to consider events after the Tonal execution.

A deputy, Gonzalez Santos, charged that Valenzuela had invited some military commanders to revolt. The deputy declared the former minister was preparing his rebellion for "soon." Then he warned the government was prepared to put it down when it did start.

HOOVER TO TOUR EVERGLADES AREA FRIDAY-SATURDAY

WILL THEN PREPARE LEAVE SOUTH FOR WASHINGTON AND INAUGURATION

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—(U)—After President-elect Herbert Hoover has completed his tour of the Everglades flood district, which will occupy Friday and Saturday of this week, he will prepare to leave his pre-inaugural headquarters here for Washington some time Monday. The President-elect will return to Washington physically rested for the first time since he opened his candidacy for the presidency, his ten days of fishing having gone far through their recreational features to give him the rest that he needed.

The trip into the Everglades area was for the purpose of surveying the need for federal aid in flood control in the section where more than two thousand persons were drowned in 1926 and 1928.

Mr. Hoover will leave Friday in the company of Gov. Coyle E. Carlton of Florida, Representative Reed of Illinois, chairman of the house General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and other state and federal officials. The inspection tour will end Saturday after the P. N. Drane, J. M. Dyer, Sr., J. N. Edens, J. L. Halbert, W. H. Hastings, Beauford Jester, W. P. McCammon, Sydney Marks, W. C. Stroube, Ed M. Polk, R. RESIDENT HIGHWAY ENGINEER TELLS OF LOCAL ROAD STATUS

WORK EXPECTED GET WELL UNDER WAY DURING COMING SUMMER MONTHS

Specific information concerning road construction in consolidated road district number One and on federal highway 75 was presented by resident engineer, J. W. Alger, at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday morning. Junior college matters and fire prevention were also brought to the attention of the board.

Vice-president H. D. Fillers presided at the meeting Tuesday in the absence of President C. L. Jester. R. J. Jackson, chairman of the highway committee, reported on a referendum submitted to the chamber by the national chamber of commerce. After a poll of the membership had been taken, it was found that the sentiment was unanimously in favor of the proposals which included the establishment of such boards and the authorizing of action on the part of highway boards and commissions to expedite road matters as swiftly as possible, within certain financial limitations. The directors accepted the report of the committee and went on record favoring the proposals.

A. A. Allison, chairman of the education committee, announced that a compromise junior college bill was now pending before the state legislature. The bill, which would amend the establishment of a junior college in a district having taxable values of $25,000,000 or above. He stated that a move would be made to reduce the minimum limit of valuations.

A request from the East Texas Chamber of Commerce to favor the proposed bond system for the roads was presented, but after considerable discussion no action was taken.

Mr. Jackson then presented the resident state highway engineer, J. W. Alger, and asked that he state the exact road situation at this time.

Local Highway Situation. Mr. Alger stated that the contract for the dump and drainage structures on highway 14, part of highway 75, was awarded on January 22, and that the contractor was expected to start work within a few days.

Plans on the stretch between Richland, north to Corsicana, have been completed for about nine miles, the engineer said, with the exception of the 1800 feet of trestle and a span through Richland bottom, and these will be prepared in Austin.

Test borings are now being made in the Richland bottom, but this work has been delayed by weather conditions. Plans for the road two and a half miles north and south of Corsicana, beginning at the city limits, are being held up pending the designation of a route through the city.

Plans on highway 75 from the Ellis county line south are about fifty per cent complete for a distance of about nine miles. Work in preparing the descriptions of the right-of-way between Richland and Corsicana is now in progress. According to present plans, the Eureka road which will go to the oil field will intersect the main federal highway about one-half mile south of Corsicana, Mr. Alger said.

Handicaps Encountered. Questioned as to why the road program had advanced so slowly, the engineer stated that the limits and bounds set out in the bond petition have created the number of handicaps and difficulties that had to be adjusted before the construction should reach top speed.

Contracts for drainage and dump work might possibly be awarded about April or May if no further hindrances are found, according to Mr. Alger. The remainder will be ready probably during the summer months; one of the problems mentioned was the elimination of the grade crossing over the T. & E. V. railroad, north of Corsicana.

Mr. Alger stated that he expected to start the survey of the road to Powell before the end of the month. He also stated that before final plans could be drawn on the road west of Ward Bridge that a complete route map of the road to Waco would have to be prepared, and he had recently received the authorization to make this plan. Plans should be completed by the middle of the summer on the east and west roads. He also stated that the road to Mildred by the Three-Way Filling station was regarded only as a query project.

Corsicana Girl Is Married in Dallas

Word was received in Corsicana Monday of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Curry and Dr. Charles R. Lees in Dallas, Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church, Dr. George W. Truett performing the ceremony.

Miss Curry is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Curry, and is a recent graduate of the Baylor School of Nursing. Dr. Lees will be graduated from Baylor Medical College in June.

aid from the citizens of the county. Mr. Alger stated that the influence of the citizens might be used to aid the commissioners court in securing right of way for the roads.

Mr. Jackson pledged the efforts of the highway committee at any time to aid the officials in any way they saw fit to use them.

R. A. Caldwell presented a summary of the activities of the fire prevention committee during the year, and was authorized to prepare a pamphlet to be distributed at the annual banquet on February 19.

Secretary Christian was authorized to aid in the entertainment of several state and district conventions to be held in Corsicana this year.

Among those present at the meeting were Lowry Martin, O. M. Boynton, J. M. Dyer, W. Roy Christ, J. D. Cunningham, H. R. Stroube, L. J. S. Murchison, A. A. Allison, R. L. Wheelock, B. H. Jester, H. D. Fillers, R. J. Jackson, J. N. Edens, W. P. McCammon, Guy M. Gibson, J. L. Halbert, R. A. Caldwell and C. L. Jester.

A brief meeting of the highway committee was held preceding the directors meeting. After canvassing the ballots on the referendum submitted by the national chamber, it was found that the seventy ballots returned were in favor of the expediting of road building, and the matter was recommended to the directors for favorable action.

CORSICANA WOMAN DIED MONDAY; WAS BURIED TUESDAY

Mrs. Rebecca Claghorn, aged 45 years, wife of J. P. Claghorn, who resides near North Commerce street near the sub-station, died in the Navarro county hospital Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock following a month's illness and the funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Southland Undertaking Parlor with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Claghorn was born in South Carolina but had resided in Corsicana for twenty-five years. Surviving are her husband, six brothers and one sister, who reside in South Carolina.

AGED TEAGUE MAN DEAD. TEAGUE, Feb. 12—(Spl.)—C. C. Campbell, 87, long time resident of this city died at his home here Friday. Interment was made Saturday.

A number of relatives, and two children, Miss Grace Campbell of Waco, and Mrs. Castleberry of Teague, survive the deceased.

Al Jolson Coming To Palace Theatre

Al Jolson, famed as a blackface comedian, lays aside burnt cork for the greater part of his new Warner Bros. special, "The Singing Fool," and to a great extent plays his role straight. And he plays it now as a clowning, wise-cracking comedian, but with an emotional power and depth of feeling that are remarkable.

Thus the screen production presents a new Al Jolson—a finished, dramatic actor who in his new medium exercises an even greater sway over the hearts of his audience than before.

As a singing waiter in a New York night club, and later as master of ceremonies in the gayest of the city's cabarets, Jolson is seen as a man almost beaten down by the heavy hand of tragedy, following a beginning that seemed to promise him every human joy.

Heading the star's supporting company are two leading ladies in the persons of Betty Bronson and Josephine Dunn, and a host of other players, including Reed Howes, Arthur Housman, David Lee, Edward Martin and Robert Emmett O'Connor.

"The Singing Fool" was directed by Lloyd Bacon, one of Warner Bros. directorial aces, and the scenario was written by C. Graham Baker from the play by Leslie S. Barrows.

Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool," comes to the Palace Theatre, commencing next Monday, running through Saturday.

Society Matron Reveals Secret

"You ask me how I look so rested and so happy? Well, I am a society matron as you know," she was being interviewed by a society reporter on her return from a World Tour. "We traveled in many different climates, but my secret was to always have on hand those marvelous lotions, and fine textured creams of Martha Lee." You know—Martha Lee Toilettries are the choice of the modern woman who must have beautiful, unblemished skin. Why not try them? Sold and recommended by Inabitt Drug Co.

PAID UP, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—The City National Bank of Corsicana was awarded the contract for the Limestone county depository by the county commissioners court when the institution bid 3.77 percent interest with stiff competition for the account. The bank has had the fund for several years.

THE RIGHT ATTITUDE PAID UP, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—The police are finding it almost impossible to enforce a section of the code Napoleon forbidding women to wear trousers without a permit. So they have decided not to try unless excessive attention is attracted. And they are doing this about the case of Miss Violet Morris, athlete, specializing in the discus throw, who wears them constantly.

FORMER PRESIDING ELDER CORSICANA DISTRICT IS DEAD

REV. W. H. MATTHEWS PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY IN GATESVILLE TUESDAY

Rev. W. H. Matthews, about 65, died suddenly at his home in Gatesville Tuesday noon and the funeral services will be conducted at St. John's Methodist church at Waco, Burial will be at Waco. Rev. Matthews had been at a Fort Worth hospital for some time due to a heart ailment but had improved considerably and had returned home several days ago. He was presiding elder of the Gatesville district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and formerly was presiding elder of Corsicana district, leaving here about ten years ago. Rev. Mr. Matthews joined the Methodist ministry in 1892.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Ben Matthews, Tehuacana, and W. H. Matthews, Jr., Fort Worth; three daughters, Mrs. Edna Boykin, Clarendon; Mrs. Louise Maxwell, Fort Worth; Mrs. Elizabeth Am-brosio, Houston.

Rev. P. P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist church, plans to attend the funeral services and it is expected that Rev. A. W. Hall, presiding elder of this district, Rev. G. E. Koenig, pastor of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church; Rev. A. E. Carraway, pastor of the North Corsicana Methodist church; Rev. A. E. Carraway, pastor of the county, and others will attend.

When he left Corsicana, Rev. Mr. Matthews was presiding elder of the Fort Worth district, and was a hospital commissioner for the Fort Worth Methodist Hospital.

Rev. Mr. Matthews was stricken with a heart attack while attending the Methodist conference in Fort Worth during November.

"The Show Off" to Be Given at Mexia MEXIA, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—"The Show-Off," a three-act comedy by George Kelley, will be presented at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, February 19, by the high school faculty. Limestone County Depository Named GROESBECK, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—The City National Bank of Mexia was awarded the contract for the Limestone county depository by the county commissioners court when the institution bid 3.77 percent interest with stiff competition for the account. The bank has had the fund for several years.

PAID UP, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—The police are finding it almost impossible to enforce a section of the code Napoleon forbidding women to wear trousers without a permit. So they have decided not to try unless excessive attention is attracted. And they are doing this about the case of Miss Violet Morris, athlete, specializing in the discus throw, who wears them constantly.

CORSICANA MAN SIGNALLY HONORED AT DINNER GIVEN TRUSTEES TRINITY UNIVERSITY

WAXAHACHIE, Feb. 13—(Spl.)—Frank N. Drane of Corsicana, who is serving his twenty-fifth year as chairman of the board of trustees of Trinity University, was honored at the semi-annual meeting of the board held here Tuesday when a large cake, containing twenty-five candles, was served at a dinner given the trustees. The candles represented the years of service rendered Trinity by Mr. Drane during the time he has been chairman of the board.

H. L. Williamson, business manager of Trinity, spoke briefly at the meeting, praising the service rendered by the Corsicanan. Those present at the meeting included A. C. Bigger and Dr. Floyd Poe of Dallas, Frank N. Drane of Corsicana, Dr. J. Elmer Ferguson of Houston, Dr. S. M. Thompson of Rockwall, and O. H. Chapman, W. D. Anderson, and Dr. G. H. Hogan of Waxahachie, all trustees; President John H. Burma, President-emeritus S. L. Hornbeak, H. L. Williamson, business manager, and Dean Edward P. Childs.

In his talk Mr. Williamson said: "This cake before us symbolizes and calls to our attention and prompts us to give recognition in a small way to an unselfish and helpful service that has extended over a period of years—a service that has not been prompted in the least by any forethought of material gain, or the gratification of desire for the plaudits of fellowman, nor for the purpose of fostering any theory of political or social reform, but with only the thought that the best interests of the object to be served so that the most wholesome results be gained. A service that has required no little sacrifice of material wealth and personal inconvenience, for through a score and more of years we can vouch that a call for help—let it be for service or counsel or material aid—has always been needed and a helpful service rendered. We cannot refrain from mentioning that during the rendition of this service a splendid and masterful attitude has been maintained, and the donor has in all instances, evidenced by the consideration given—let it be person or object—obtained the most wholesome results. Again, this is only a slight recognition and reminder of the faithful stewardship which you, Mr. Drane, have rendered this board as its chairman for more than a quarter of a century."

HOMES PROMINENT FIGURES IN PUBLIC LIFE ARE GUARDED MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13. (AP)—Bombs and threats of kidnapping today caused heavy police guards to be placed about the homes of prominent figures in public life.

Against this background there appeared in today's newspapers here a second signed statement of President Emilio Portes Gil saying the government was convinced that "criminals (Roman) Catholics" were responsible for the attempt made against his life Sunday.

Deportation of a Swede (an Italian and a consul of Bolivia were ordered, after exposure of pro-Catholic sentiment.

Three more bombs were discovered in offices and homes of other prominent Mexicans whose names were not revealed. Police meanwhile have made no arrests in connection with the bomb found in the offices of Governor Aaron Saenz of Nuevo Leon Sunday night.

President Portes Gil, former President Calles, and other prominent Mexicans have received threats against their lives, similar in appearance to threats received by General Obregon prior to his assassination, police headquarters revealed. Those to President Calles threatened kidnapping of his daughter, Ernestina, who is Mrs. Thomas A. Robinson, wife of an American.

A detective left at the scene of the dynamiting of the presidential special train Sunday morning concluded his investigation and put three persons under arrest. Their names were not disclosed. Forty

HOUSE ENGROSSED GOVERNOR'S CIVIL SERVICE MEASURE

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—The house yesterday passed to engrossment a civil service bill patterned after recommendations made by Gov. Moody.

Under the bill the board of control would act as a civil service examining body. Effective officers and those whose appointment must be confirmed by the senate, and other classes, are exempted from provisions of the act.

Wirtz and 15 other senators signed a bill aimed at party "irregulars," introduced it and had it reported favorably from the floor by the committee on privileges and elections.

The bill would remove the limitation from party executive committees placed on them by law in empowering them to prescribe

CORSICANA FIRM BUYS REFINERY IN COMANCHE COUNTY

PLANT WILL BE DISMANTLED AND SOLD, ACCORDING TO STATEMENTS

Work of wrecking the oil refinery property in the western portion of the city was begun this week. The property has been tied up in tax suits for several years, and these were recently settled, the City of De Leon getting a title to certain portions of the property in settlement of tax claims.

It is understood that the city gets the land, the high-woven wire fence, two residences, choice of one tank and all the fire-hose owned by the refinery. The city's tax claim approximately $1600.00. Before the city issued a bill of sale to the property all other tax claims were settled by the purchaser. These were school, state and county, and the gasoline tax, all these latter mentioned being settled in cash.

Cost Near $300,000.00.

While the exact cost of this property could not be ascertained by the Free Press, it is believed that no less than a quarter of a million dollars, and possibly three hundred thousand dollars, were expended in building this plant and in buying the thirty-eight miles of pipe from Pioneer. The plant was at first owned by a stock company. This failed and private owners took the property over and operated it for a year or so. The small independent refinery of crude oil made small headway against the large corporations. So the plant was again closed.

Being Sold for Junk.

Tom Eron, representing a Corsicana firm, is here and will be in charge of wrecking the plant and of taking up the pipe line. This work will continue five or six months. He will occupy the residence on the property meanwhile. Mr. Eron stated to Free Press that the various parts of the machinery and fixtures of the plant will be offered for sale and dismantled. There is much pipe, pumps, vats, brick, etc. A considerable force of men will be given employment while the work is in progress.

DeLeon Free Press.

Alex Eron, manager of the Acme Pipe and Supply company and owner of this concern with his brothers who reside in Fort Worth, is now in DeLeon and in charge of dismantling the plant, as above stated.

TEAGUE HI TO ELECT.

TEAGUE, Feb. 12.—(Spl.)—The student body of the Teague high school will hold an election Wednesday, Feb. 13.—The following officers will be elected: President, vice president, fire marshal, yell leader, and clerk.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming election.

RETAIL MERCHANTS NAME DIRECTORS AT TUESDAY MEETING

OFFICERS FOR YEAR WILL BE ELECTED BY BOARD THURS- DAY MORNING

Directors for the ensuing year were elected at a meeting of the Retail Merchants association held Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce. Plans were also made for the meeting to be held on the night of Feb. 28 when G. W. Sully will address the membership of the association.

The proposition made by Fred White to take over the Retail Merchants association and run it as a private enterprise and in addition organize a collection bureau and a loan bureau was referred to the new board of directors who will meet soon and go into the details of the plan and then submit it to the membership at a meeting to be held in the near future.

T. J. Walton presided at the meeting Tuesday night.

A ballot containing the names of all of the members of the Retail Merchants association was presented to the members at the meeting and from the sixteen receiving the highest number of votes eight directors were elected. Representatives of the following firms will constitute the board of directors: Marks Bros., E. H. & A. Davis, C. A. Tripp, J. M. Dyer, C. Johnson, Drug Co., Walton Furniture Co., Corsicana Automobile Co. It was generally understood that the senior member of the firm would be on the board of directors but some other members of the firm might be appointed, however, it was explained. F. A. Pierce, president, automatically became a member of the new board, making nine directors.

The new board of directors will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce to elect officers for the ensuing year.

The heaped bodies of the victims were found in the rear room of the S. M. C. Carriage company, 2122 North Clark street, by the police who had been summoned by a woman living nearby. She was apparently the only person to hear the reports of the sawed off shot guns and machine guns of the slayers.

Pose As Police.
The assassins pulled up before the Moran gang headquarters in two large automobiles. They rushed into the Carriage company, displaying stars and ordering the eight occupants to raise their hands. Apparently the slayers then herded their victims into a rear room and, lining them up against a wall with hands above their heads, loosed their gun fire.

Six of the bodies, in grotesque positions where they had fallen, were found by police ranged along the bullet marked and blood spattered wall. On the floor in an outer room, two others were found still living but fatally wounded. Both died later.

The police immediately identified three of the victims as Peter Guseburg, robber and jewelry thief; James Clark, and Al Weinschank, soft drink parlor owners. One of the wounded men was identified as Frank Guseburg, brother of Peter, both having been involved in the Dearborn street station mail robbery several years ago.

Bodies Bear Many Wounds.
Every body, including those of the wounded men, bore from six to ten bullet wounds. From the appearance of the Carriage company's offices, the gun raiders apparently swooped down with the intention of killing everybody in the place. The building is a garage and contained a number of cars. The bodies lay in an open space where the men had been herded by their killers, before the executions.

The police viewed the slayings as a new outbreak of bootlegging hostilities but at first were unable to determine the affiliations of the raiding gang.

Police were of opinion that the Moran gang was holding a meeting in the Carriage company office, used for bootlegging, when the assassins took them by surprise. The slayers apparently learned of the meeting and took advantage of it to wipe out all their rivals.

New Plan of Slaying.
Today's slayings were new in Chicago gang warfare. Previously the gangsters had taken their victims for "rides," luring them into automobiles and killing them, or had swept past in automobiles, raking their victims with gun fire.

Never before, however, had one gang invaded the stronghold of another, rounded up the victims and deliberately shot them to death. The slayers escaped today in approved gangster fashion, dashing away in waiting motor cars.

The list of dead as given out by the police follows:
PETER GUSEBURG, notorious gangster.

JAMES CLARK, owner of the garage and brother-in-law of "Bugs" Moran.

ARTHUR HAYES, North Side hoodlum.

ARTHUR DAVIS, West Side hoodlum.

FRANK FOSTER, Moran henchman.

AL WEINSCHANK, soft drink parlor proprietor.

An unidentified man, believed to have been a garage mechanic.

The injured man was Frank Guseburg, brother of Peter, who refused to talk. He later died.

Today's killing brought the total of gang slayings here in the past few years to more than 135.

Created Sensation.
The slayings created a sensation in official circles. William F. Russell, commissioner of police, Detective N. Sundeen, county coroner and Harry Stansbury, assistant state's attorney, were on the scene within a few minutes and took charge of the investigation.

Two hours after the killings the

Legislators to Go San Antonio Show March 2

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—The house today accepted an invitation from the Bexar county delegation and city officials of San Antonio to attend the International Exposition and Livestock show in San Antonio, March 2.

Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, presented the invitation on behalf of Mayor C. M. Chambers.

The trip will be the second legislative junket of the session, the first having been made recently making a trip to Houston.

bodies still lay in the shambles in the same positions in which they were found while hundreds milled about outside the buildings as the officials started their inquiry.

"This is the end of gangland in Chicago," Chief Russell declared as he looked at the bodies. "It's a war to the death now and no quarter given or asked by the police. Every policeman in Chicago is going to get his orders. We are going to start one of the greatest fights against crime this or any other city ever has seen. The raids in which 3,000 were taken and put in jail won't be in it with what we will do now."

All victims were well dressed. In the pockets of one the police found $800, and most of them wore expensive jewelry.

Five men apparently were the murderers. The five were seen to leave the garage after the shooting, lugging along their weapons without any attempt at concealment. One man said he saw the men emerge from the building, and that they were carrying their weapons in their hands and proceeding without any hurry. He believed that the five climbed into a car at the curb that he thought was a police car, stowed their guns in the rear and drove away.

The first policeman to reach the scene went there on the prosaic report that "somebody has been hurt in a garage." He found the wounded Guseburg staggering about the garage and the man clutched in his arms. In the rear room were the bodies of the seven victims while a raging police dog with bared fangs stood guard over them although chained to a wall.

Outside Haffa Ward.
The building is one story high, about 150 feet deep and just outside the Forty Third Ward, domain of Alderman Titus Haffa, sentenced to two years imprisonment yesterday for violation of the liquor laws.

The police were trying to determine if his sentence and the killings were connected in any way.

At the rear the building tapers until it is only about 40 feet wide. There is a narrow runway for trucks and to one side a small square formed by an abutment in the wall. It was in this place, against a white wall and beneath an overhead light that the men were lined up and shot down.

Police began a search for a man known as Marinello, said to have been the owner of the garage, when neighbors reported he was present during the slayings and apparently had escaped unhurt.

The wounded Guseburg died in a hospital shortly before 2 o'clock.

Woods Named Head Of Teague Bank

CHRISTIANS WINNERS.
MEXIA, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—In the hotly contested Mexia church league of basketball teams the Christians defeated the Presbyterians 26 to 13, while the Baptists defeated the Methodists 31 to 29. The season closes next Monday night with two games. The Christians are undefeated thus far.

HIDALGO COUNTY DELEGATION GOES HOME WEDNESDAY

consider filing impeachment charges against Montgomery.

Consideration of the protest brought to the house one of the biggest and most colorful crowds of spectators in many years. The senate knocked off work early and most of the senators visited in the house during the proceedings.

Denied entrance to the floor, the Hidalgo delegation took positions in the gallery, where the members order and preliminary rulings listened to the fight over points of which followed attempt to get the protest before the house. The speakers applauded ardently when speakers made points favorable to them.

At one time Speaker W. S. Barron warned that "if there is any further applause the galleries will have to be cleared."

Although fortified by two parliamentarians, one of whom was imported especially for the occasion, Speaker Barron referred all of the many points of order to the membership for disposal.

Representative Grady Woodruff of Decatur conveyed the delegation's request for a hearing and petitions bearing several thousand names, protesting against dismissal of the contest and asking Montgomery to resign his seat, to Speaker Barron.

When Speaker Barron attempted to place the communications before the house there were many points of order raised and parliamentary questions propounded. It was these that consumed more than three hours before the house voted 74 to 55 to sustain Keller's point of order.

The house had previously voted 91 to 26 to consider the communications as "privileged matter."

Representative S. E. Barnett of Greenville wanted to suspend the rules and defer the contest back to the committee on privileges, suffrage and elections. The motion was lost, falling short of the necessary two-thirds majority required to suspend the rules. The vote was 64 to 62 for re-referring.

Bank Bandits Captured Just After Robbery

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—An hour and a half after the robbery of the Chase National Bank at Independence, Mo., the two men were captured by Harry McIntyre, marshal at Elgin, Kas., in Osage county, Oklahoma. The money was recovered and the men were taken to Elgin.

IN MEMORY DR. BAUD BROWN
The death angel came with silent tread, and on Sunday, Jan. 27, 1929, bore the soul of Dr. J. Baud Brown, to that beautiful home, not made with hands.

February 24th, he would have been 28 years old.

Dr. Baud as he was known to his friends was a true and devoted son, and had many friends. All was done that loving hands and medical skill could accomplish, but the gentle spirit broke its bonds and winged its way to the great city, where there is no death nor sorrow.

Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, where a large crowd had gathered to pay their last respects. He was laid to rest beneath a flower covered mound, in the Richmond cemetery, by the side of a sister, who had gone on before.

He leaves to mourn his passing a father and mother, four sisters, one half sister and two half brothers, and other relatives.

Dear loved ones, grieve not for him, he is not dead, but sleeping, his spirit will be waiting with outstretched arms to welcome us to that land of eternal rest.

When a voice whispers time shall be no more.

When God smiles on his children so fair, When immortal soul reaches that glorified shore, There will be some one to welcome it there.

Those who attended from other places were: Drs. Kelton, Shell, Carter, E. A. Johnson, Bill Sneed, Mack Sneed and Dr. Watson, Rev. Baker, Rev. Merrell and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bush and daughter, Miss Linnie and Mrs. Tom Hill, Mrs. Lee England, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. McAdams, Mr. Wetherford, Mr. Moale, Miss McCleod, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. penses of reappraising public lands, Robison's drawing checks on the fund to refund the contributors, after costs of the revaluation had been paid. For their prorata of the unused balance, and some of the payees endorsing and returning the checks to Robison, Smith asked if he "saw anything wrong with that."

"I do not see any moral iniquity in the transaction, but under my code I believe, as a public official, I would have returned the checks," General Wothers replied.

As attorney for the Texas company, General Wothers called on Commissioner Robison last December and asked him to postpone sale of leases on 103,000 acres of land, advertised for sale in January, he testified.

"I found him perfectly willing to postpone the sale if under the law he could do so," he said. "He explained that he had received a specific request for the tract and he would place it on the market under the law or he was stopped by injunction."

Committee Orders Favorable Report On Muscle Shoals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—A meeting of members of the house military affairs committee, which Chairman Morin declared was not a regular and valid meeting, today ordered favorably reported the Madden bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid Company for 50 years.

TEAGUE WILL HAVE MODERN SYSTEM OF CITY WATER MAINS

TEAGUE, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—As a result of two successive meetings, the city council of this city has made a contract with Joe E. Winslett, Inc., for installation of cast iron mains in the city water system, converting all the mains to metal instead of wood. The consideration is understood to have been $46,000, which, if the proposition is accepted by attorneys representing parties to the contract, and the detail work out satisfactorily, may be paid for over a period of twenty years.

No action has been taken on procuring a larger supply, since the mayor says there is little need to increase the supply until we can take care of it with an improved system of mains.

CROPS SUFFERED HEAVILY IN SOME RIO VALLEY AREAS

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(Sp.)—Early estimates indicate the cabbage crop in the lower Rio Grande valley sustained only slight damage, if any, from the low temperatures last week, while in the Corpus Christi-Robstown district one fourth of the crop was damaged, according to a report today by Charles Sperle, truck crop specialist with the United States department of agriculture.

In the lower valley beans were damaged 35 to 40 percent, tomatoes 30 to 35 percent, potatoes 20 to 30 percent, while beets and carrots were not damaged, the report stated. Onions in the Corpus Christi-Robstown district are reported to have been damaged about 25 percent and the crops set back a week or ten days, he said.

"In the Raymondville district present indications are that there was no damage, which was attributed to the cloudy weather and light winds," Sperle said. "Damage to onions in the Laredo district is reported as being light, while in the winter garden district and adjoining counties reports in general are that the onions are down. While it is yet too early to estimate damage from the low temperature it is believed that the movement will be delayed a week or ten days and that the quality and yield will be impaired, especially as to the early plantings."

Sperle estimated the damage to spinach in the Corpus Christi-Robstown district at fifteen percent, while in the Earedo district there was practically no damage, he said.

PURDON

PURDON, Feb. 14.—(Sp.)—Howe French, who works for the Texas Power & Light Co. came in Friday from Lockhart to spend the week end with home folks. He left Sunday for Wichita Falls.

Miss Frances Wheat of Corsicana spent the week end with home folks here.

San Call of Waco was here Saturday.

J. D. Lee and family of Alma spent a few days here last week.

Mrs. W. E. Butler spent Wednesday in Dawson with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Breedlove.

G. J. Gregg brought his little boy home from the County Hospital Tuesday, where he has been for several days, suffering from pneumonia. He is reported to be very sick at this writing.

R. F. Johnston, who has been sick so long, is reported no better.

Mrs. C. C. Wilson is spending this week in Alma.

Clyde Baldwin and Guy Davis spent Tuesday in Corsicana.

G. C. Hall and J. H. Ponder of Dawson were here Tuesday.

The snow of last week has put most all the roads impassable, but made lots of sport for the younger set. Skating and snow-balling were the order of the day here for two days.
